MESSAGE.

Gentlemen of the Senate,

and of the House of Representatives:

Assembled for the first time under our biennial system of Legislation, we find causes for mutual congratulation, in the favorable circumstances by which we are surrounded.

During the past two years, the people of Indiana have enjoyed the inestimable blessings of peace, and of civil and religious liberty.

Although, in the course of the year through which we have just passed, some portions of our State have been visited by a fatal epidemic, and, although, in some districts, the earth failed to yield its usual bountiful returns, to reward the labors of the husbandmen; yet, general health now prevails among our large population; and the cultivators of the soil have gathered the fruits of the earth, in quantities sufficient to meet the demands of the home market, and to furnish a large surplus for exportation.

Notwithstanding the temporary presence of financial embarrassments, which, unfortunately, press around the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country, our great agricultural interests is in a prosperous condition; the farmer finds a ready market and good prices for his surplus products; the laborer receives a fair remuneration for his toil; the State holds a position of great and increasing power among her sisters of the Union; and the strong, steady, and impartial protection of our laws extends over all the inhabitants within our borders. In such circumstances, it becomes our duty, as a grateful people, to offer our thanks to Almighty God, and to acknowledge our obligations to Him, for the innumerable blessings that we enjoy.

In compliance with that clause of the Constitution which requires that your chief executive officer "shall from time to time, give to the General Assembly information touching the condition of the State, and recommend such measures as he shall judge to be expedient." I invite your attention to several subjects, each of which will, no doubt, receive from you, before the termination of the present session of the General Assembly, all the consideration that its importance demands.

Among the subjects of legislative consideration, the financial condition of the State demands your special attention. It is to your action alone, that the people must look for the protection of their credit, the preservation of their faith, and an exemption from unnecessary burdens.

It affords me pleasure to be able to say that the fiscal affairs of the State are still improving. Economy has been observed in the public expenditures; and while the interest on the public debt has been promptly paid, the reduction of the principal has not been neglected.

The amount of the ordinary expenses of the State government, as audited, and paid by the Treasurer, for the year ending October 31, 1854, is $54,261 44—which is $49,668 44 less than the amount paid for the year ending October 31, 1853. This sum as the ordinary expenses of a government composed of a million and a quarter of inhabitants, will compare very favorably with the ordinary annual expenditures of any State in the Union—it being, per capita four and one-third cents for each individual.

The ordinary annual expenses of the State government, from October 31, 1844, to October 31, 1854, inclusive, have been as follows:

For the year ending October 31, 1844.....	$93 368 73
For the year ending October 31, 1845.....	74,855 28
For the year ending October 31, 1846.....	69,136 59
For the year ending October 31, 1847.....	90,709 67
For the year ending October 31, 1848.....	79,267 48
For the year ending October 31, 1849.....	73,881 47
For the year ending October 31, 1850.....	73,615 10
For the year ending October 31, 1851.....	71,810 36
For the year ending October 31, 1852.....	160,312 68
For the year ending October 31, 1853.....	103,929 88
For the year ending October 31, 1854.....	54,261 44

Making a total of..... $945,198 68

The amount of the value of taxable property has increased, during the same period, as follows:

Amount in 1844	$116,237,965
Amount in 1845.....	118,870,251
Amount in 1846.....	122,265,686
Amount in 1847.....	124,610,441

On the first day of November, 1854, the State debt of Indiana amounted to $7,031,003 50. Of this sum the State has liquidated the amount of $227,864 50, leaving, of the public debt, the sum of $6,803,139, of which sum $1,763,139 is bearing two and a half per cent. interest, and the balance, to-wit, $5,040,000, is bearing five per cent. interest. The aforesaid sum of $227,864 50 having been paid by the State, under the act of the General Assembly creating the Sinking Fund, these stocks remain on the books of the Agency, the interest credited and applied annually to the reduction of the principal of the public debt. Hence, so far as the interest is concerned, the stock belonging to the State is still considered outstanding.

Satisfactory evidences of the strength of the financial resources of the State may be seen in what we have accomplished in the last ten years. During this period, without estimating what are called the ordinary expenses of the State, there have been, by taxation, levied, collected, and applied, the following sums, namely:

For the redemption of principal and interest of scrip,.....	$2,274,605 90
Interest on the public debt, including the payment of the interest for January, 1855,	1,798,412 92
Payment upon the principal of the public debt,	227,864 50
Payments to the three Benevolent Institutions,	693,503 31
Expenditures on the State Prison, including expenses connected with the removal of prisoners,.....	71,412 87
Making.....	$5,066,899 60

If to this we add the ordinary expenses of the State government for the same period, amounting to $945,198 68, we have the sum of $6,011,098 18, equal to about eight-ninths of the present State debt, raised from our people by taxation, at a rate exceeding $600,000 annually; five-sixths of which amount has been annually applied to the payment of interest and to other objects not included among the ordinary expenses of the State.

The exhibit here made of the amount already liquidated of the public debt, fully corroborates the estimates made in my annual communication of 1850, which looked to its final discharge in 1871.

No intricate machinery has been required for this purpose, but simply an application of the surplus means in the Treasury, to the purchase of the debt. And I deem it an imperative duty, while prosperity is all around us, and our other burdens are light to urge upon you the continuance of this policy, and to make an annual levy of not less than five cents upon the one hundred dollars, to be appropriated exclusively for this purpose. With the application of these means, and such other as may be at our command, the last dollar of our public debt will be discharged in 1868. Then will be realized the consummation at which we have so long aimed, when the public stocks of Indiana shall no longer be displayed in market to tempt the cupidity of the sharper, but free from debt, with light taxes, an economical administration, our commerce, our agriculture, our manufactures, the pride and strength of our people, Indiana shall truly be the envy and admiration of her sisters of the Union.

Before the next session of the General Assembly, the charter of the State Bank will expire; and, therefore, it devolves on the present Legislature to make some disposition of the interest that the State holds in that Institution. It is wisely provided by the constitution that, hereafter, the State shall not be a stockholder in any bank, nor lend her credit to any corporation. With the object of carrying out this principle, and keeping in view the interests which the State holds in the bank, consisting of stocks, sinking fund, surplus revenue, real estate and other assets, I recommend the appointment of a board of Commissioners with full authority to make a settlement of the affairs of the State and the bank, on the expiration of the charter.

The State is liable for the bonds originally issued for the capital stock, upon which the bank has promptly paid the interest, and the stock, at this time, commands a premium.

The whole legislation of the State, as well as the letter and the spirit of the constitution, declares the expediency of a separation of the interests of the State from all corporations. I concur, fully, with the Auditor of State in his views as to the propriety of the future investment of the sinking fund in the bonds of the State.

The law upon the subject of general banking, has failed to accomplish the purpose for which it was enacted. It has not furnished, for the use of the people, a sound circulating medium. The experience of the two past years fully establishes the correctness of my remarks addressed to the last General Assembly on the subject of banking: and I may adopt, in its fullest meaning, the sentiment then expressed, "that past events have clearly shown that the restrictions provided by the law are insufficient to prevent abuses of the privileges granted."

It is a matter of regret that this subject did not engage the attention of the General Assembly at its last session. I again urge upon your consideration, the views expressed on this question at that time.

The country having over-traded, a necessary demand for exchange to meet Eastern liabilities, was created. This state of affairs caused the broker to seek for gold; and, in pursuing this object, he placed himself in the position of the merchant or business man, and was fulfilling one of those vocations not uncommon in such conditions of the country. It was a fortunate circumstance that the broker came early. We had, in less than six months, issued more than six millions of currency—an amount not required for the maintenance of a healthy condition in our monetary affairs; and if the broker had delayed his visit for a year longer, a greatly increased amount of paper circulation would have resulted in greatly increased pecuniary losses to the people.

The practical operation of the law in many instances, has been that the individual has not sought to locate and commence the business of banking to accommodate the commercial community, but to borrow money for himself under the sanction of the law. Men without capital or with barely credit sufficient to borrow a few thousand dollars of stocks, have been furnished facilities under the law, to become bankers to the extent of millions. With the currency procured upon the first deposit of stocks, other securities have been purchased and other notes procured, and thus a large circulation has been created without a dollar of actual capital.

Directors and bank presidents are now issuing this depreciated currency over their own counters without any effort, or, it is believed, intention ever to redeem it. With this currency they purchase bills payable East, and the farmer instead of getting an equivalent for his products, is paid in a circulation which he cannot dispose of without sacrifice, nor retain in his possession without danger. Instances are not wanting where the proprietors of banks, after suffering their institutions to suspend, have themselves embarked in the business of buying up their own paper at a heavy discount, and thus plundering the laborer of his hard earnings. You will be wanting in your duty to an outraged people if you fail to adopt prompt measures to suppress this practice, which is not only unjust and disreputable, but subversive of public morals.

The indispensable duty of protecting the people of the State from the evils of a depreciated paper currency, requires that no special indulgence should, under any circumstances, be granted to any banking institution that neglects or refuses to redeem its issues in coin. Any bank refusing to redeem its circulation with the constitutional currency of the country should be immediately wound up. No state of facts should be allowed to justify any delay in closing the business of such a bank. Every hour's delay affords to the broker and the speculator, a harvest—yielding as the delay continues, richer and more abundant fruits; and always at the expense of the laborers and the business men of the country.

The law itself is not only glaringly defective, but the construction given to it, and consequently the practice under it. It was evidently contemplated by its framers that no bank should be established with a capital of less than fifty thousand dollars, that it should have a convenient and accessible place of doing business, that it should redeem its issues promptly on demand, and that its proprietors should be at least men of pecuniary ability, and that it should embark in no other than a legitimate bona fide banking business. And yet in how few instances have these requisites been complied with.

Under the 12th and 28th sections of the law it was undoubtedly competent for the Auditor to wind up any bank not doing business at the place where its bills were payable. To give more efficiency to this provision, and to make the duty imperative upon that officer, I called the attention of the Legislature to the subject in my last annual communication, but having failed to procure the required legislation, I renew my recommendations on this point.

The great error in the law, is, that the entire responsibility of the system is placed in the hands of a single individual, and he an officer of the State already charged with duties and trusts of the most important character. This single individual determines upon the validity of the organization, the character and value of the stocks, issues the circulation, holds the securities, passes upon the correctness of the reports, delivers powers of attorney for the collection of interest, and in short settles all questions connected with the banks according to his own unaided judgment. With a bond of only $10,000 he is the custodian of near $10,000,000 of the public securities.

If it be the design of the Legislature to continue this system, it will, in my judgment, be necessary, in order to secure the confidence of the people, and to protect their interests, to provide for the organization of a Bank Department with a Board of Bank Commissioners, with full powers to determine upon the locality of the bank, the necessity for its creation, the solvency of the securities offered, and who should, also, be charged with their custody.

I also recommend, that, inasmuch as the term of the present incumbent is about to close, a committee of the two Houses be appointed to investigate fully the condition of all matters pertaining to the banks connected with the office of the Auditor of State. A full report will doubtless do much to allay the apprehensions of the public, and establish confidence wherever merited.

The valuable and interesting report of that officer will present you in detail the operations of the Free Banking system in his hands.

It will doubtless be the policy of the legislature to provide for the immediate closing, and withdrawal from circulation of the paper, of all such institutions as persist in the violation of the palpable provisions of law. In doing so, due regard should be had both to the interests of the people, and of the banker, so as to prevent undue excitement and apprehensions on the one hand, and loss and insolvency on the other. A contrary policy might involve the solvent with the insolvent, the upright man of business with the dishonest and corrupt.

With the state of things we have had for the last year it was not possible to avoid revulsions and monetary excitements.

The circulation of the State Bank in October, 1853, was	$3,834,765 50
Circulation in October, 1854,	2,803,648 00
Decrease	$1,031,117 50
The Stock Bank circulation July 1st, 1854,	$9,299,575 00
Circulation January 1st, 1855,	5,565,099 00
Estimated amount in hands of bankers not in circulation,	1,000,000 00
Decrease in six months	$4,734,475 00
The precise amount surrendered at the Auditor's office up to the 1st day of January, 1855, is	$3,731,475 00

Here we have a withdrawal from circulation in twelve months, and the greater part in four months, of $5,666,123 00, or more than one-half of all the circulation called money in the State. More than three millions of this circulation is depreciated; its value being at the mercy of the broker and speculator. The same facts, in regard to the decrease of the currency, are true, although perhaps in less proportions in the adjoining States with which we have commercial intercourse. How can any people have stability under this state of monetary affairs?

We shall always have revulsions, expansions, contractions, and derangement in the whole business of the country, so long as we foster any system that makes promises to pay money, instead of gold and silver. If the inferior circulation were this day withdrawn, I have no doubt we should find a sufficient amount of the constitutional currency among our people for all ordinary business purposes.

We have not only a depreciated currency, issued under the authority of law, but we have a depreciated currency, issued by rail road, plank road, and insurance companies, without the authority of law. Thousands of dollars of this latter kind of depreciated paper have been thrown into circulation, and left to represent an uncertain and variable value in the ordinary transactions of business. The credit of the State, and the interests of the people, demand an abatement of this evil.

No subject of legislation is calculated to awaken more pleasing anticipations for the future than our system of popular education. Indiana, under the auspices of her new Constitution, has, upon the subject of education, adopted a policy that has commanded the admiration of some of the older States of the Union. Let us, by the most judicious course of legislation, prevent a retrograde movement on the part of the State, with respect to this very important interest.

The recent decisions of the Supreme Court, on the constitutionality of the consolidation of the avails of the school sections, and on the township tax for school purposes, while they have settled those questions in a manner satisfactory to the parties that raised them, do not, in the least degree, disturb the broad basis on which our system of public instruction rests.

It will be a task worthy of the exercise of your legislative wisdom, to correct, by some means within the scope of your legitimate powers, the inequalities caused by the first decision, in the annual avails of the local funds. In the distribution of the general fund raised by the school tax, it is believed that the desired results may be obtained as readily as they could have been accomplished had the decision been otherwise.

The second decision, as I understand its import and application, confines the power and limits the responsibility of raising funds, for purposes of adequate and general public instruction, to the Legislature alone. The restricting of the exercise of this power, and the limiting of its responsibilities to the General Assembly, will produce the uniformity contemplated by the constitution. It is not believed, however, that the Supreme Court, in deciding the unconstitutionality of the township tax, intended to declare that the people of the several townships are, by the constitution, deprived of the right of taxation for the purposes of building school houses, and furnishing apparatus, furniture, and fuel for the use of the public schools. They mean, by the construction that they place upon the word "uniformity," as it appears in the constitution, to convey the idea that the tax levied for purposes of education, and to be applied in the payment of teachers, must be levied by the Legislature. If, however, they intend to apply the principal of the decision to all the details of the municipal regulations of the school affairs of townships and towns, the interests of education imperiously demand an early amendment to the constitution. In order to secure efficiency in the operations of any system of public instruction, the action of the people, in township and in district organizations, is indispensably necessary.

I cannot, for a moment, suppose that corporate towns and cities may be invested, constitutionally with the powers necessary to manage their municipal affairs, according to their peculiar circumstances, in every department of local interest, excepting only that most important of all interests, the education of youth. It would be a ruinous policy to make an exception so fatal to all prospects of efficient action on the part of one of the most essential elements of human progress.

It is gratifying to know that, where the school law has been carried into effect, according to its obvious import, under the control of efficient officers, and without the disturbing influence of legal questions, its action has been happy and harmonious; and warrants the expectation that, with slight amendments, not affecting its vital principles, but merely correcting some oversights and supplying some deficiencies, it will remain among our statutes, an exponent of the wisdom of its framers, and a blessing and an honor to the State.

The signs of our educational progress may be seen in the increasing number of graded schools—some of established reputation, and others aspiring to that position—and in large, commodious, and costly edifices that have been erected for purposes of education, in various parts of the State. The building of numerous school houses, and the increasing demand for competent teachers, are additional evidences of the favor with which the people regard our educational interests. The recent organization of a Teachers' Institute, and the later organization of a State Teachers' Association, with its associated lectures, I hail as omens of good; and predict that beneficial and far-reaching influences will flow out from these institutions.

During the past two years, the steady increase of the number of students in our several Colleges, and the manifestations on the part of those who have charge of these Institutions, of an active sympathy with all the educational movements of the State, have afforded additional and gratifying evidences of the sound state of popular opinion on the subject of education.

It is the duty of the State to extend to all the general educational enterprises of her citizens, the countenance and encouragement of a liberal policy; and, in the maintenance of such a policy, to exempt from taxation at least those funds that have been bestowed by private munificence, for the moral and intellectual training of the youth of the State.

The affairs of the State University, at Bloomington, require some prompt and decisive action on the part of the General Assembly. In the early part of the year 1854, the main college building, and the very valuable Library that it contained, were destroyed by fire. The Trustees immediately adopted energetic and economical means to repair the damages; and a new and commodious edifice, designed for the principal department of the University, is now nearly completed.

You are aware that, for some years the affairs of this Institution have been embarrassed by the progress of a law suit, which involved about sixty thousand dollars of its funds, and which grew out of a controversy between the State and the Vincennes University. The suit has been decided against the State; but no decision has been made in any controversy wherein the State University was a party, and it is believed the judgment of the Court cannot, without further legislative action, be carried into effect by any transfer of the funds in question, to the Vincennes University.

Having no doubt of the power of the State to adjust this difficulty, (in which the rights and liabilities of the parties arose under the old constitution,) by any means at her command, or on time, I earnestly recommend the adoption of measures for the early settlement of this controversy, in some way that will not deprive the State University of its present resources. The suit, to which reference has been made, was instituted under the authority of an act of the Legislature; and, whatever opinions may be entertained as to the results of future litigation on the part of the State University, the interests of the people of the State, of the Institution, and of the community in which it is located, require an early and final settlement of the question.

A statement of the condition of the funds of the State University will be placed before you, in the report of the Trustees. These officers, in the course of the past year, obtained a loan of six thousand dollars from the Sinking Fund; and they should be invested with authority to mortgage a part of the college lands to secure the payment of this loan. The whole subject of the sale of the lands granted by Congress and amounting to about twenty-four thousand acres, is respectfully submitted for the consideration and action of the General Assembly.

In the late revision of the Statutes of Indiana, the laws on the subject of the profanation of the Sabbath, were, it seems, unintentionally overlooked, and annulled by general repealing clauses. The observance of this day, as a day of rest from the common secular concerns of life, is not only a religious duty, but it is a political and social interest, which no enlightened people may disregard with impunity. From the past, and from the present, many sad examples rise up before us, to warn us of the inevitable decline of strength and virtue, and prosperity, in nations and States where the Legislators and the people have looked with indifference on the profanation of the Sabbath.

With respect to this subject, the present General Assembly will, doubtless take into consideration the propriety of re-enacting those laws which up to a recent period, and through all changes, have stood among our Statutes since the foundation of the State Government.

The law of 1853, on the subject of the traffic in intoxicating liquors, has been rendered inoperative by a decision of the Supreme Court of this State; and an unusual degree of excitement has prevailed among the people, in relation to the laws that should be passed by the General Assembly, for the purpose of restraining the desolating evils of intemperance. The necessity of restraining these evils by the force of law, has been acknowledged by our legislation, from the organization of the Government to the present time; and in the course of the past year, this subject, involving the happiness and prosperity of our race, and rising far above all party considerations, was forced in some measure, to assume the nature of a political issue.

Some of the best citizens of the State entertain serious doubts, not only as to constitutionality, but as to the expediency of adopting stringent legal means for the suppression of intemperance; and it is neither prudent nor just to assume from this fact, that such men are among the foes of temperance. All experience shows that very stringent penal laws against privileges and habits long indulged in, are calculated to produce a re-action in public sentiment.

We have, in our State, some counties, in which, even under our defective laws, not a solitary dram-shop is to be found, and in which, no person could find a support as a retailer of spirituous liquors to be drank as a beverage. Here, then, are examples of the prevalence of a sound public opinion in communities where agitation, discussion, and moral influence have effected a reformation, and where the people now require only sound legislation to protect them in the enjoyment of their happy condition.

The legislative department of the Government is, unquestionably, vested with the right to prohibit the manufacture and sale of ardent spirits as a beverage; but, in framing a law for this purpose, great care should be observed, in order to protect from violation and from annoyance, the constitutional rights of every law-abiding citizen, in the security and sanctity of his own home.

The evils of intemperance are so numerous, so great, and so destructive, that all good men will rejoice to see them abated. No estimate of the loss of business, the loss of dollars and cents to the manufacturer or retailer, or the loss of trade and commerce to the State, should for a moment rise into importance, in contrast with those terrible realities of poverty, sorrow, wretchedness, moral degradation and crime which darken our land, and fill our alms-houses, hospitals and penitentiaries. Benevolence and public policy alike require a suppression of the evils of intemperance; and if the wails of the widow and the fatherless fail to reach our hearts, and urge us to apply a remedy, considerations of economy in the administration of the law should not be disregarded.

It has always seemed to me, that the individual who sells intoxicating liquors in violation of law, and the person who becomes a drunkard by the habitual use of such liquors, are both guilty. A drunkard should, by law, be disqualified for the making of contracts, or the management of property, thereby protecting his family from the designs of the cunning and cruel, in the waste and destruction of his estate. We shall fail in our duty unless we throw the strong arm of the law around the wife and children of the inebriate.

No one can doubt that there is a strong public sentiment in Indiana in favor of a change in our laws upon this subject; and it is the duty of the people's servants to carry out that sentiment. It will give me pleasure to co-operate with the Representatives of the people, in the adoption of any constitutional measure, that may be calculated to remove this acknowledged evil from the State.

The Reports of the Trustees of the Benevolent Institutions exhibit the condition and management of these monuments of the benevolence of Indiana. The people willingly pay their taxes to sustain these Institutions. It is, however, essentially necessary to provide additional checks in the expenditure of the public money raised for their support. Their cost per year, amounts to more than the sum paid annually on account of the ordinary expenses of the State government. As they are now placed upon the Treasury proper, to be sustained by direct appropriations, it is hoped that the necessity of borrowing money to support them, will not again arise.

I recommend that the management of the affairs of the three Benevolent Institutions, be placed under the control of one set of Trustees, not exceeding five in number; and that the law which governs the expenditures of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, be extended over the other Institutions.

At this time, while financial embarrassments are affecting some of the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country, it is gratifying to observe that there are evidences of industry, prosperity and improvement, among the farmers and mechanics of the State. All classes of our laboring population are turning their attention, as members of various industrial associations, to the consideration of the best means of promoting the interests of their several pursuits. Under the authority of the Act of the General Assembly, approved February 17, 1852, about sixty Agricultural Associations have been established in Indiana, and a very large portion of this number held interesting and profitable fairs, in the fall of the year 1854. I suggest that the law under which agricultural societies are organized, be so amended that these associations shall be invested with the right to hold real estate, for purposes connected with the holding of their annual fairs. Many of the societies have purchased valuable grounds, on which they are making permanent improvements.

The State Board of Agriculture is now in session, with a full delegation from various parts of the State. By the operations of this Board during the past year, more than four thousand volumes on agricultural subjects have been distributed among the people of the State. These volumes contain not only valuable information, derived from the experience of some of the best farmers of Indiana, but also many useful and interesting facts in relation to the agricultural experience of the most distinguished farmers of other States of the Union.

It is the duty of those who represent the people in the General Assembly, to aid and encourage the efforts of the State Board of Agriculture and its auxiliary societies. By stimulating labor, by rewarding industry and skill, by encouraging the useful arts, and by diffusing, in various ways, useful and practical knowledge, these associations have exerted a most beneficial influence in promoting the agricultural interest, and in increasing the amount and value of the products of our home industry.

I recommend that you appropriate the sum of three thousand dollars for the permanent inclosing of the military grounds at the Capital. This sum, in addition to that which will be furnished by the citizens of Indianapolis and the agricultural society of Marion county, will be sufficient to provide suitable grounds for the periodical display of the most valuable stock of the State, and for the exhibition of the labor and skill of our mechanics and manufacturers.

The correspondence on the subject of acquiring territory in Liberia, for the colonization of our colored population, will be found in the reports of the colonization agent. From this correspondence, it appears that the contemplated quantity of land cannot be acquired in a body. The object in view may, however, be accomplished by such a modification of the law as shall authorize the selections of lands, in smaller quantities, for families and individuals who may emigrate from Indiana to Liberia. The expediency of making such a modification of the law, is worthy of your consideration.

Since the passage of the law authorizing a State organization for the purpose of aiding the cause of African colonization, forty-eight persons have been sent from Indiana to Liberia. A majority of these emigrants were good mechanics, industrious and intelligent men, and well qualified to exert a good influence in that infant republic.

Time has demonstrated that the scheme of African colonization is practicable, and no enterprise of the age holds out greater promise of good to the colored race. Within the last twenty years, through the influence of the Liberian government, the principles of christian civilization and civil liberty have accomplished more, among the twenty-five million of that portion of Africa, than had been achieved by the efforts of philanthropists in the course of many preceding centuries. The colored man, in his native land, has established a republic, built towns and cities, founded churches and schools, and adopted a policy calculated to encourage agriculture, mechanics, manufactures, and other industrial pursuits. We must look to this land for the elevation of the African, for the separation of the white and colored races, and for the removal or mitigation of a great source of evil. I recommend that you continue the annual appropriation for the cause of colonization, and that your voice be heard in the national councils, asking for the recognition of the independence of the Republic of Liberia.

In former messages, my views in relation to the necessity of making provisions, by law, for a thorough geological and topographical survey of the State, and in reference to the importance of creating a Bureau of Statistics in one of the departments of State, have been laid before the Legislature. Again, earnestly, I invite your attention to these subjects.

In the early part of the year 1854, the State Board of Agriculture, at an expense of five hundred dollars, employed Dr. Brown to make a cursory geological examination of the State, and to publish the results of his labors in the third annual report of the Board. In that report, which has been placed on your tables, you will find much valuable information on the subject of our undeveloped agricultural and manufacturing resources. We have neglected these interests too long, and the present is a favorable time to correct this error of our home policy. Europe is now convulsed with a contest, the end of which cannot be foreseen, but which will, while it lasts, continue to disturb the commercial and manufacturing interests of the world. While we cannot be indifferent spectators of this terrible conflict among the nations of Europe, we should be admonished of the necessity of cultivating the arts of peace, and of developing those boundless resources of wealth that a bountiful Providence has scattered broadcast over our land. Without depending upon the fluctuating and uncertain influences of national legislation, it is our duty to strengthen and encourage the arms of enterprise and industry, by the strong force of a wise and steady State policy.

With a coal field of seven thousand square miles in extent—with inexhaustible beds of iron ore—with a soil of unfailing fertility—with a central position between the east and the west—and with railroads traversing the State in all directions—Indiana, if true to her own interests, may, within the course of the next ten years, double the present amount of her wealth and population.

If we desire to bring into our State a portion of the now hoarded capital of Europe and the east, we must be able to point with certainty to the places at which it can be profitably invested. To enable us to do this, we want reliable facts, such as the actual investigations of scientific men only can furnish. The expenditure of a few thousand dollars, if authorized by the Legislature, will secure to us the advantages of a thorough geological and topographical survey of the State. While our sister States, by the aid of science, are unfolding their agricultural and mineral wealth, we are trusting these great interests to chance and to individual enterprise.

In view of the facts, that there are in Indiana twenty-five hundred miles of railroads, either now in running order, or approaching a state of completion—that the affairs of some of these roads are controlled by the interests of citizens of other States—that our railroads furnish employment to thousands of hands—and that the policy of these corporations exercises an important influence on the trade and commerce of our State, and on the character of the citizens—it becomes the duty of the Legislature, not only to adopt efficient measures for the prevention of unauthorized and unjust exactions upon the traveling public, but to provide, as far as human foresight can provide, and by any means within the scope of legislative authority, for the prevention of those railroad accidents which so frequently result in the destruction of property and the loss of human life.

Many of the common railroad accidents of the day, which are caused by unsubstantial temporary bridges, defective locomotives, badly constructed railways, improper signals, and carelessness on the part of employees, might be avoided, by subjecting the conduct of railroad companies to the scrutiny of officers deriving their authority from the Legislature. You are therefore invited to take into consideration the expediency of providing for the appointment of General Railroad Commissioners, who shall be practical and scientific men, and who shall be invested with power to visit the different roads, enquire into and report abuses, and require compliance with the provisions of law. The companies having charge of roads that connect with roads in other States adjoining, should be required to keep, in this State, an office for the transaction of business.

It is confidently hoped that the present Legislature will, without authorizing any unreasonable interference with the affairs of railroad companies, provide, by the enactment of suitable laws, for holding to the strictest accountability all persons entrusted with the management of these corporations.

An early consideration of the expediency of creating the office of Attorney General is pressed upon the attention of the General Assembly. With respect to this subject, the justness of the views contained in my annual communication of 1851 has been confirmed by the experience of the two past years. The amounts paid and the liabilities incurred by the State, for professional services, during that period, will exceed the sum of five thousand dollars. Constitutional questions that affect the revenues of the State, the common schools, the tenure of offices, &c., are continually arising in the courts, and yet there is, for the State, no legal adviser. Economical considerations clearly indicate the necessity of creating the office of Attorney General.

In the application of the principles of economy, in fixing the compensations of the officers of the State government, we should be careful to avoid a parsimonious policy. The salaries attached to our public offices should not be prodigally large; but they should be sufficiently remunerative to command, in the administration of the public affairs, the services of the most worthy and the most competent men. The very best and most wholesome laws may, in consequence of their incorrect interpretation, or improper administration, fail to accomplish the purposes for which they were made.

In order to secure strength, efficiency, and success in the administration of the public affairs, it is the duty and the interest of the State to provide for the payment of fair salaries to public officers. The present salaries of our Judges are not sufficient; and it is absolutely necessary to increase the compensation of these public servants, if we desire and expect to have, in this department, the services of men qualified to administer justice, and to command, for the judiciary, the confidence and respect of the people. These remarks are applicable to other public officers, and to the discharge of other official duties.

During the course of the years 1853 and 1854, the present efficient State Treasurer has received and distributed about three-quarters of a million of public moneys, on account of swamp and wet lands. For the additional responsibilities and labors imposed on him in the discharge of these duties, the Legislature should allow a proper compensation.

— Before the next meeting of the Legislature, the present lease of the State Prison will expire; and the duty devolves on you to decide whether the present system of selling out the crime of the State to the highest bidder, shall be continued or abandoned. The policy of making periodical sales of the management and labor of the criminals that the State may have in its custody, is highly objectionable. The Penitentiary of Indiana is as well kept, in conformity with the law that governs it, as any State Prison in the Union; but the system is essentially wrong, and unworthy of the State.

The State should have the entire control of the Prison, its discipline, its labor, and its internal regulations; and, as far as it may be practicable and expedient, a system of rewards for good conduct should be kept constantly before the view of each convict. Do not make the convict a slave without hope, if you expect to reform him; but let him know that the State regards him, even within the walls of a prison, as a man, in whose reformation and restoration to the rights of citizenship, she feels an interest.

In determining the question of the future management of the State Prison, the idea of making it profitable, in a pecuniary way, should be outweighed by a higher consideration—the duty of adopting the best means for the reformation of the convicts within its walls.

The constitution that you have sworn to support, declares that the General Assembly “shall provide houses of refuge for the correction and reformation of juvenile offenders.” Of two hundred and sixty-seven men in the State Prison, thirty-six are under twenty years of age; and more than one-half of the whole number are under twenty-five years of age. The youth of sixteen is found by the side of the old offender, and deprived of all associates other than those who are hardened in crime. All prisoners convicted of the first offence, and all youthful convicts, should be placed in situations where they would receive the kind advice of parents, guardians, or friends. By adopting this policy, our prisons will soon become houses of reformation, as well as places of punishment.

I communicate, herewith, the list of pardons, fines, and forfeitures, for the last two years, and suggest that they be published with this message; and, also, that you provide, by law, for the annual publication of similar lists.

Your attention is specially invited to the interesting Report of the late Visitor to the State Prison, to the Reports of the other officers, and to the views expressed in my former communications upon the subject of the management of this institution.

Early in 1853, appointments of Brigadier Generals were made, with the view of effecting an organization of the military strength of the State; and, at a court martial which was held in the month of October, 1853, rules and regulations were adopted, which, it was believed, were at least sufficient to develop and secure that strength. Commissions have been issued in thousands; letters of instruction have been sent to the proper officers; and every effort has been made to carry the law into effect; yet not one Brigade enumeration has been perfected; and I hesitate not to express the opinion that no organization can be effected, unless the General Assembly gives to the proper authorities the power to impose penalties for the non-performance of official and militia duty.

Although our strength has increased four-fold since 1831, we are drawing our quota of arms from the General Government, upon our strength of that year. Many valuable suggestions are contained in the reports of the Adjutant General, which will be laid before you. The labor of this officer has been greatly increased, and he should receive additional compensation.

Many questions of vital interest to the State, are presented, for your consideration, in the Report of the Trustees of the Wabash and Erie Canal. The most of these have been alluded to in my former messages, to which your attention is invited. Since the last meeting of the Legislature, the Wabash and Erie Canal has been completed to the city of Evansville; thus forming the longest line of continuous artificial inland navigation on the globe. In the completion of this great work, we may find, taking into consideration the many embarrassing obstacles which have been thrown in its way, causes for mutual congratulation. It opens, for the extensive districts of fertile country lying upon its borders, a cheap means for the transportation of heavy articles of export and import; and, by affording the means of an easy passage to northern or southern market, it promotes, materially, the agricultural interest of the State, and imparts a stimulus to other branches of our home industry.

It is an unpleasant duty to call your attention to the fact, that, in a few instances, in some portions of the State, indications of the existence of a spirit of mob-law and violence have appeared. Secret associations, usurping the prerogatives of law, have, (by means of disturbing the peace of families, injuring property, and inflicting corporal punishment on individuals,) undertaken to regulate the morals of the communities in which such lawless combinations are permitted to exist. Civil officers, and peaceful citizens, fearful of incurring the dangerous hostility of members of these secret associations, allow their lawless acts to pass without punishment, and almost without public censure. The inevitable tendency of these secret associations is to corrupt the morals of the community, and to divest men of their respect for law and order,

In reference to this subject, it seems that some additional legislation is required, in order to insure prompt and efficient action on the part of the civil authorities. If, in cases of unlawful assemblages, riots, routs, affrays, &c., the Circuit Courts were invested with concurrent jurisdiction with the Courts of Common Pleas, and informants were thus shielded by Grand Juries, the change would, perhaps, afford to society some additional protection against the violence of lawless men.

No state of facts can ever arise, in a government like ours, that should, for a moment, tolerate private citizens in the usurpation of the right either to redress their own real or imaginary wrongs, or to inflict injuries on the property or on the persons of their neighbors. Wherever such usurpations are tolerated and encouraged, the people are rapidly approaching a state of anarchy, in which laws can afford no protection to life, liberty, or property. It is, therefore, the solemn duty of every citizen of Indiana to aid in the preservation of the public peace, and in the maintenance of the supremacy of the laws. These interests must be preserved, and maintained, at all hazards.

The total amount of money arising from the sale of swamp lands, paid into the treasury, and in the hands of the receivers, is at the present time, about $500,000. Of this sum, $340,000 has been disbursed under the law authorizing the ditching and draining of the lands. In some portions of the State, the expenditure of the funds has produced good results; in other parts the money has been paid to officers, and nothing beneficial to wet lands has been accomplished.

The operations of the swamp land laws have confirmed the views expressed in my former communications to the Legislature. The correctness of the construction that has been placed, by officers of State, on these laws, as they relate to the mode of issuing patents, is, in my opinion, very doubtful. The subject demands your early attention. It is yet possible, by prudent legislation, to secure, for the common school fund, a considerable amount of the proceeds of the swamp lands. The very valuable Report of the Auditor of State will place before you the details of the management of this trust.

It is the duty of the present General Assembly, to fix by law, the number of Senators and Representatives that shall compose the Legislature, and to apportion such Senators and Representatives among the several counties, according to the number of white male inhabitants above twenty-one years of age, in each. In connection with this subject, your attention is invited to the suggestions that were contained in a previous message, in reference to a reduction of the present number of Senators. In the discharge of the duty first named, and in any action which, in your discretion you may deem proper, in respect to the suggestions concerning a reduction of the number of Senators, you will, no doubt, be controlled by an equitable regard for the interests of the citizens of all portions of the State.

It is your duty to establish all the guards and restrictions that may be necessary for the protection of the purity of the ballot box, and the security of the elective franchise. I suggest that you prohibit, under severe penalties, against the separation of all the officers of an election, until the ballots are counted, and the result of the poll is known and declared.

The attention of the Legislature is again called to the consideration of the subject of providing suitable buildings for the State offices at the seat of government. The proceeds of the property owned by the State, and the additional aid that the General Government will, doubtless, furnish, will be sufficient to erect a substantial building on the "Governor's Circle," for the accommodation of the National and State officers, without imposing any tax on the State Treasury. The Capitol building should be appropriated only to the uses of the General Assembly, the Representatives of the people, and the State Library.

An appropriation should be made for the enclosing of the capitol grounds with an iron fence. This is rendered absolutely necessary, in order to preserve the building and the grounds.

The loss of some of our State Bonds by a late disaster at sea, suggests the propriety of providing by law, for the relief of the holders of bonds in similar cases. The law should be well guarded—requiring proof of loss, identification of numbers, dates, and amounts—and made applicable to all cases of loss or destruction of State bonds.

The Secretary of State of the United States has transmitted to the Executive department of this State, a copy of the details of a "Consular Convention between the United States and his Majesty, the Emperor of the French," concluded on the 23d day of February last. This document, and an accompanying circular that explains the object of the transmission, are herewith presented for your consideration.

The great inequality now existing in the appraised value of real estate, and the recent rapid progress of improvements demand, it seems to me, a re-appraisement of lands; and the expediency of causing a full and complete census of the State to be taken, for the year 1855, is also worthy of your consideration.

In accordance with the requirements of the resolution of the last General Assembly, authorizing an examination into "the stock affairs of the State, the loss of surrendered bonds, and the excess of scrip, the undersigned, in company with the Treasurer of State, visited the office of our Agency, at New York, in August, 1853. The missing bonds having been found a few days previously, were carefully counted, and are now in the office of the Treasurer of State.

The apparent discrepancy between the books of the Agent of State and those of the Auditor, as to the amount of bonds surrendered, was examined in order to correct this discrepancy, a complete copy of the books of the Agent of State was made, and carefully compared in every particular. This copy is now in the hands of the Auditor of State, who by reference to it, has corrected the supposed errors; and it is believed that the Report of the Auditor, based upon this examination, presents a correct view of the State debt.

It had been stated that Indiana had not received any part of the three per cent. fund due her, for lands sold at Chillicothe and Cincinnati; and in the course of the official visit to which I have referred, the officers before named, made an examination at the General Land Office, with respect to the amount and condition of the three per cent. fund due the State from the General Government. I submit, herewith, a report, obtained from the General Land Office, showing the condition of this fund, up to the date of the report; and accompanying the report is a letter on the same subject, addressed to the Secretary of the Interior, under the date of November 10, 1853.

The subject of the excess of scrip has been carefully examined by two gentlemen under oath. Their report, which is herewith submitted, shows the amount redeemed and cancelled upon the books, by each Treasurer. The question of further action, in relation to this subject, is submitted to your consideration.

The first and second instalments due by virtue of the sale (in pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly, approved February 28, 1852,) of the interest the State had in the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad, have not been paid. A mortgage was taken upon the road and all its equipments, and duly recorded in the several counties through which the road passes. Upon the failure to pay the first instalment of seventy-five thousand dollars, due the first day of January, 1854, the claim was placed in the hands of able attorneys for collection. The report of the Trustee named in the mortgage, and the correspondence upon the subject, together with a communication from the President of the Company, will place before you the condition of this claim.

Many important questions, all of which will doubtless receive your careful consideration, have been raised under the operations of our new constitution and Revised Statutes, since the last session of the General Assembly. Among the subjects that will claim your attention, are the amendment of the law in relation to the compensation of Sheriffs for the removal of convicts to the State Prison—the expediency of investing Clerks of Courts with power to order the holding of elections for Justices of the Peace—the decision of the Supreme Court, on the subject of the amendment of Statutes—and the extent to which it will become your duty to revise the laws affected by that decision.

We cannot be indifferent spectators to the action of the General Government and to the political events of the day. The past year has been one of unusual political excitement; and, to the patriot, it must be a source of regret to perceive that this excitement has, in no small degree, evinced a dangerous spirit of sectionalism.

Indiana, as a State, has wisely selected her own domestic policy; and the people feel that they have the right, from time to time, to change or modify that policy. Satisfied with the degree of prosperity that we have attained under our own free institutions, we have uniformly respected the constitutional rights of each member of the confederacy; and no just cause of complaint against Indiana can be made by any State of the Union.

Whatever views may be entertained by others, it is my deliberate opinion that, at this day, the people of no State are more national in their political sympathies than are the citizens of Indiana. Enjoying the privilege of making our own laws, in our own way, on all subjects not prohibited by the constitution of the United States, we acknowledge the existence of a similar right in the people of every other State and Territory in the Union. I know of no other principle but this, upon which we can stand with safety and honor. It is the chief corner-stone on which, under God, the security and perpetuity of the Union rests. If we cannot maintain this position, there is no hope of peace and harmony in the future. Whenever we abandon this stand, we shall lend our influence in invoking that worst of all political calamities, a dissolution in feeling and sympathy of the members of this great confederacy—thus transforming moral and fraternal ties that bind us together, into mere galling and oppressive physical forces.

Our only hope of perpetuating our institutions in all their original vigor and purity, rests upon the adoption of that system of legislation that throws the several States and Territories of the Union more and more upon their own resources, and confines the action of the General Government within the limits defined by the constitution.

Ardently desiring to co-operate with you, in all that will advance the interests of our beloved commonwealth, and looking to that Being who, alone, is able to guide us in the paths of wisdom, you have my warmest aspirations, that all your proceedings, at this interesting and critical period in our history, may have a tendency to increase the strength and maintain the honor of our State, and promote the happiness and prosperity of the people.

MR. SPEAKER:

The select committee, to whom was referred the resolution of the House on authorizing the doorkeeper to subscribe for certain newspapers, beg leave to report that they have conferred by note, with the several proprietors of said newspapers, and have received for answers, as follows:

The Indiana Journal Company propose to furnish three copies of their Daily (two enveloped) at three and a half cents per copy, without stamps. The Daily State Sentinel at the same rate. The Weekly Republican at thirty cents per copy, for the session, without stamps, or two cents additional per copy for stamping. The Volksblatt and Free Press, (German), each propose to furnish copies at five cents per copy, stamped and enveloped.

The offices seem to have great reluctance at "stamping" the papers, owing to the difficulty of procuring the necessary stamps—requiring gold and silver coin, invariably, to purchase them.

Your committee recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the doorkeeper be authorized to contract with the Daily Journal and Daily Sentinel, and Weekly Republican, for three copies of each of their said papers, two of each copies to be enveloped, for the use of the members of this House; and that he be further authorized to procure the necessary stamps, and have the said enveloped copies stamped ready for mailing, and laid upon the table of each member of the House.

Resolved, That the doorkeeper be instructed to order the location and establishment of a Post Office in the stationery room, for the use of members of this House, and that the duties of said officer shall be faithfully discharged by him or one of his assistants, without any additional expense to the State. Said office shall contain as many small boxes or pigeon holes, convenient for the reception of papers and documents, as there are desks in this hall, and shall be numbered in the same order, and the box corresponding in number with the desk occupied by each member, shall be reserved for his exclusive use.

Mr. Carnahan moved to lay the amendment upon the table.

Provided, That before such contract shall be executed, the editors of such papers shall obligate themselves, in writing, to report the proceedings of this House for their respective papers, and upon a failure to do so, we hereby reserve the right to rescind such contract.

Which motion did not prevail.

The question then recurring upon the resolution it was not adopted.

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE, }
Indianapolis, Jan. 8, 1855. }

Honorable Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—In reply to a resolution of the body over which you have the honor to preside, requesting “that the Auditor of State report whether he is at this time issuing to any of the Free Banks of this State bills for circulation by them,” I have the honor to reply that I am not issuing any notes to any of the Free Banks of this State, except in the following instances:

The Bank of Paoli, recently organized by the citizens of that place, intended for a bona fide bank, has had her notes prepared, and has also filed bonds in this office as a basis, but as yet no notes have been delivered to them. She is one of the specie-paying banks, so quoted. Also the Bank of North America at Clinton has drawn out about ten thousand dollars of her notes, by retiring the same amount of the notes of the Bank of North America at Newport. This bank, I understand, has been purchased by citizens of Clinton, who desire to remove it from Newport to Clinton, and do it by retiring the notes of the bank at Newport, and issuing new ones at Clinton. The Clinton bank is a specie-paying bank, while the Newport one is in a state of partial suspension. The securities of the bank at Newport are principally based on Indiana 5 per cents, taken at par, while the bank at Clinton is based on stocks at their present value. These are all the cases I now recollect in which new paper has been issued for some time.

It is also true I am finishing up a considerable amount of paper that was partially done before the suspension, to save my successor the labor and trouble of doing it, saying nothing of the small amount of profit to result therefrom.

All which is most respectfully submitted.

JOHN P. DUNN,
Auditor of State.

REPORTS FROM STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. Murray, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred the resolution of the House, instructing the committee "to examine and report at as early a day as convenient, whether it is necessary in amending an article or section, to set out the old law and the new law as revised on the same page, or whether it is only necessary to set out the old law and amendments made; and also whether the decision of the Supreme Court, interpreting the 21st section of the 4th article of the constitution, will have any effect on the Legislature of 1852"—beg leave to make the following report:

That in the opinion of this committee, it is necessary under the constitution, in amending any article or section, to set out the article or section proposed to be amended, and also the article or section as it will read when amended.

Your committee are further of opinion that the general legislation of 1852, as contained in the revised statutes of that year, are not in conflict with the 21st section of the 4th article of the constitution, on the subject of amendments.

They think that that article was framed and intended by its makers to correct a very objectionable practice of future legislatures, of amending sections and laws by a mere reference to the title, section, or line, requiring sometimes a critical examination of various acts to ascertain the meaning and intention of the legislature.

The revised statutes of 1852 were not, strictly speaking, amendments of former laws, but were new enactments upon the same and other subjects, and by the general repealing clause, found in page 430 of 1st volume Revised Statutes of 1852, "all laws not enacted at the present (then) session of the General Assembly were repealed," except such as were there excepted.

Which report was concurred in by the House.

Which is in the words and figures following, to-wit :

MEMORIAL ON TEMPERANCE, &c.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Indiana.

The Memorial of Indiana Yearly Meeting, composed of that portion of the religious society of Friends residing in the western part of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, respectfully represents :

That actuated by a desire to be found faithful in promoting the great work of righteousness, peace and temperance in the earth, and having the welfare of our beloved country at heart, we believe it to be our imperative duty to unite with a large number of our fellow-citizens, who are petitioning for legal enactments for the suppression of intemperance, and of the commerce in intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal and mechanical purposes.

More than thirty years since we adopted the following rule of discipline for the regulation of our members, viz :

“Whilst therefore we hold it to be an indubitable truth, that moderation and temperance are inseparable from the Christian religion, we affectionately beseech our members to abstain from all appearance of evil in relation thereto; and particularly as respects the use of intoxicating liquors of every description. Is it not affectingly to be observed that a baneful excess in drinking spiritous liquors is prevalent amongst many of the inhabitants of our land? How evident are the corrupting, debasing and ruinous effects consequent upon the importation, distillation, and retailing of them, whereby intemperance is greatly aided and encouraged, to the impoverishment of many, distempering the constitutions and understandings of many more, and increasing vice and dissoluteness in the land, with which many religiously attentive minds have long been painfully exercised!

“It is the fervent desire of the Yearly Meeting, that Friends in all quarters may be earnestly excited to suffer the affecting importance of this evil, religiously to impress their minds, and that monthly meetings may labor in the spirit of love and tenderness with those who use ardent spirits as an article of drink in harvest, or on other occasions, the medical use only excepted, and also with those who sell or grind grain for distillation, or furnish fruit or other materials for that purpose; and also such as aid the business by furnishing vessels to prepare or hold such liquors, or are concerned in conveying it to or from market, or vend, or in any wise aid the commerce of that article. And if such labor prove ineffectual to reclaim from the practice or encouragement of so desolating an evil, and after the hope of gaining such by brotherly treatment is over, monthly meetings may proceed to disown them.” Book of Discipline, pp. 59-60.

After so many years' experience as a society, we can testify to the practical utility of such a provision, and to the fact that no difficulty has been found in carrying it thoroughly into execution. This being our practice, we feel the more emboldened to encourage the extension of the same rule to the community at large.

As "godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come," and as temperance is necessary to prepare the way for godliness, we are deeply impressed with the belief that every measure which will tend to increase virtue and morality in the community, and stay the desolating evils of intemperance, will, in the end, be found to result, in every respect, advantageously to the public.

We, therefore, especially but earnestly request that you will enact such a law, or laws, as will entirely prohibit the importation, distillation, and sale of intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal and mechanical purposes.

In conclusion, feeling that in the making and administration of our laws, we are responsible to Him who ruleth among the nations of the earth, and measureth out retribution upon those who obey not His gospel, our prayers are that you may be guided by best wisdom to the enactment of such laws as will tend the most effectually to suppress the evils of intemperance.

Signed on behalf of the Yearly Meeting of Friends aforesaid, held at Whitewater, near Richmond, Indiana, by adjournment, on the fourth day of the tenth month, 1853.

TO HON. DAVID KILGORE,

SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the following resolution, adopted by the House of Representatives on the 15th inst.

Resolved, That the Treasurer of State be requested to transmit to this House copies of all circulars issued by him to county treasurers, relative to the receipt of, or refusal, by them of the paper of the free banks of this State for taxes; and to state also, what amount of the issue of said banks is now in the State Treasury, and what proportion of such issue consists of other than specie-paying banks."

In compliance with said resolution, the undersigned here inserts a copy of the only circular issued by him on the subject referred to, which is as follows:

[CIRCULAR.]

OFFICE OF TREASURER OF STATE,)
Indianapolis, Nov. 4, 1854. {

Treasurer of County,

DEAR SIR:—In reply to numerous letters of inquiry as to what kind of funds would be received at this office in payment for revenue for 1854, the undersigned would say that gold and silver coin, the notes of the State bank of Indiana, and of the specie-paying free banks of this State, will be received. Also, the notes of the solvent specie-paying banks of Kentucky, Ohio, and Missouri, that are at par in this city, will likewise be received.

Respectfully yours,

E. NEWLAND,

Treasurer of State.

In reply to the second branch of the inquiry contained in the foregoing resolution, the undersigned would state that there are now about forty thousand dollars of the issue of free banks in this office, of which about thirty-four thousand dollars are of the issues of the solvent specie-paying free banks, leaving a balance of about six thousand dollars of the notes of banks that are reported as not paying specie for their notes to brokers, but pay to citizens of this State.

REPORTS FROM STANDING COMMITTEES.

following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

Mr. Meredith, from the committee on ways and means made the

The committee to whom was referred the resolution of the House requiring them to inquire into the expediency of altering the present law for appraising the value of personal property listed for taxation, report that it is inexpedient at the present time to legislate upon the subject, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the resolution.

Which report was concurred in.

Mr. Test made the following report from the committee on the judiciary.

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary to whom was directed a resolution of the House, instructing them to inquire "whether the State has a right to tax the Wabash and Erie Canal, and property belonging thereto, and report by bill or otherwise," have had the subject embraced in said resolution under consideration, and directed me to report:

That they have given the act entitled "an act to provide for the funded debt of the State of Indiana, and for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal to Evansville," approved January 19, 1846, and the act supplementary thereto, approved January 27, 1847, a careful examination, and have found no provision in either of said acts which necessarily exempts said canal, and the property belonging thereto, from taxation. Nor does said committee perceive why said canal, and the property belonging thereto, may not be just as liable to assessment for taxes, if the General Assembly should so provide, as the railroads, turnpike roads, and other public thoroughfares constructed within the State by individual enterprise. It is provided, however, in the 28th section of the supplementary act above referred to, "that the Governor shall give all necessary information to the parties, and do any act or thing which may be necessary to carry said act into effect, or to facilitate any proceedings contemplated by said act." Inasmuch, therefore, as the Governor, by the terms of the act authorizing the cession of the canal, seems to be the appropriate channel of information touching the interests of the parties to such transfer, and as there may be some doubts both in regard to the power and expediency of taxing said canal, the committee would recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Governor be requested to communicate to this House, at as early a day as may suit his convenience, his opinion as to the right of the State to tax the Wabash and Erie Canal, and property belonging thereto, and his views generally in regard to the power and expediency of such measure, and that the clerk of this House transmit to his excellency this resolution and report of the judiciary committee.

Mr. Clark of Steuben, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

A majority of the special committee to whom was referred that part of the Governor's message which refers to the political excitement of the times, ask leave to report as follows, to-wit:

At the commencement of the first session of the thirty-third Congress of the United States, the political atmosphere was calm and quiet. The people of the north, or a large majority of them, had come to the conclusion to acquiesce in those laws which were included in what was generally called the "omnibus bill," fugitive slave law and all, as an adjustment of the sectional difficulties then existing, in the hope that the south would soon see the justice of so amending the fugitive slave law as to divest it of its most objectionable features. The two great political parties of the country had met in convention, mutually pledging the parties to discountenance the agitation in or out of Congress, of the exciting subject of slavery. The chief executive of the nation, in his message to both houses of Congress, had pledged himself to sustain the same doctrine. The hope was fondly cherished that the north and the south would cultivate fraternal feeling towards each other. That no individual either, north or south, would disturb the harmony of the country by the introduction of sectional questions. The governor says the country is in a state of great political excitement. The question is, who produced that excitement? Stephen A. Douglas, a senator from Illinois, introduced a bill into the United States Congress, commonly called the Kansas and Nebraska bill. The introduction of that bill and its passage through Congress, after having undergone some amendments, is the cause, in the estimation of your committee, of the present political excitement of the times. The effect produced upon the country by the introduction of that bill and its passage through Congress, has been to destroy confidence in the honesty, integrity and good faith of the nation. To create sectional strife, to disturb the peace, harmony and good fellowship that before existed, and to produce general distrust in the minds of the people in relation to all compromises.

In relation to the question what will be the ultimate result upon the country of the present political excitement, your committee report they do not claim to be prophets, or the sons of prophets, but in their opinion, judging of the future by the past, it will result in a union of the friends of freedom throughout the country, and that union will be based on the principle of carrying out the spirit and intention of the constitution, we shall be referred back to the old paths where freedom was the rule and slavery the exception, where freedom was general and slavery local. Your committee are of the opinion that it will result in the te-total destruction of that class of political demagogues, who have been called Northern men with Southern principles, or in the classic language of John Randolph, "Northern doughfaces."

In order that the present political excitement, which the Governor so much regrets, may be allayed and harmony restored, your committee recommend the adoption of the following Joint Resolutions:

Be it Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That our Senators in Congress be instructed, and our Representatives requested to vote for a repeal of that clause in the Nebraska bill which repeals the 8th section of the Missouri compromise.

Resolved, That his Excellency the Governor, be requested to transmit a copy of the resolution to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress, at his earliest convenience, and from a further consideration of this subject, your committee ask to be discharged.

The question being upon agreeing to the report,
Messrs. Lowe and Humphreys demanded the ayes and noes.

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Bartholowew, Beach, Bonner, Branham, Brazelton, Brothwell, Buchanan, Burnett, Cain, Clark of Steuben, Clark of Rush, Clark of Tippecanoe, Clark of Union, Coen, Dickerson, Dunn, Earl, Ellis, Fouts, Frazer, Gifford, Gilham, Gwinn, Hadsell, Hall of Laporte, Hall of Warren, Harryman, Hillyer, Hudson, McCord, McMurry, Malick, Mellett, Meredith, Merrifield, Monks, Murray, Newcomb, Peckenpaugh, Peden, Sanford, Sidwell, Sims, Shanks, Shryock, Smith of Lagrange, Spotswood, Stanton, Tackett, Test, Thomas, Todd, Trusler, Turner, Wilson, Wood and Mr. Speaker—57.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Auditor of State:

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE, }
Indianapolis, Jan. 17, 1855. }

HON. DAVID KILGORE,

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—The following resolution, passed by the body over which you have the honor to preside, has been received at this office:

“Resolved, That the Auditor of State report to this House, prior to the expiration of his term of office, the full amount that he has received as fees as said Auditor, by and through the general free banking law of this State, embracing all his fees, of whatever kind, received by him under said law.”

Without stopping to inquire into the right the House of Representatives have to make a peremptory call on any public officer for a detailed statement of his private business transactions, or to report the amount of fees received, when no fees are fixed by law, but where it is a mutual arrangement between the parties interested, I must most respectfully decline complying with their request, as much more important business of the State requires all my time and labor for the few days I shall remain in office. After I shall have retired to the ranks of a private citizen, it will give me pleasure to give any honorable member all the information I may possess on this subject. In the meantime, to quiet the anxiety of any friend, I will remark that I am in as comfortable a situation as any "old liner" could well be, who was badly beaten at the late election.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

January 19, 1855.

Which,

On motion by Mr. Frazer,
Was laid upon the table.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Auditor of State:

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE, }
Indianapolis, January 19, 1855. }

TO HON. DAVID KILGORE,

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—Feeling it to be my duty to call the attention of the legislature to the fact that there is no law existing, whereby the State and county taxes can be collected from banks and bankers, who do not reside in this State. There is now in the hands of the Auditor of State, the accrued interest for the last six months, a part of which, might be by law, paid over for State and county taxes, should the legislature deem it just and proper to do so. I submit this for the consideration of the legislature.

Respectfully,

JOHN P. DUNN,

Auditor of State.

On motion by Mr. Meredith,

The communication was referred to the committee on ways and means.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Auditor of State:

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE, }
Indianapolis, January 19, 1855. }

HON. DAVID KILGORE,

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the following resolution of the House of Representatives, over which you preside—passed January 18th, 1855, viz:

Resolved, That the Auditor of State be hereby respectfully requested to inform this House what amount of the swamp land fund, if any, has been absolved by the Auditor and Secretary of State respectively, on account of patents of such swamp lands to purchasers; also, whether or not in cases where a single purchase of such lands by one person has embraced 80 acres or more, the same has been patented to such purchaser by several patents, each embracing acres or less, at an expense of $1.00 to the fund for every such patent—or if not, what has been the rule observed upon the subject.

In reply to first query contained in the foregoing resolution, I have to say, that the Secretary of State has been allowed and paid out of the general swamp land fund, for his services in issuing and recording at full length on the records in his office, the sum of fifty cents for each patent; that the number of patents issued on account of sales of swamp lands in the State is 16,219, which makes the aggregate, allowed him for the services aforesaid, the sum of eight thousand one hundred and nine dollars and fifty cents.

That the Auditor of State, for issuing certificates and recording the same upon the tract books in his office, as the law requires, and for adjusting and auditing the claims of commissioners and contractors on account of sales and drainage of the swamp lands of the State, has been allowed and paid a like compensation as that of the Secretary of State, to-wit—$8,109 50. It may not be improper, to also observe in connection herewith, that the services mentioned above, were not all the services required by law of the Auditor, in relation to said swamp lands, but that in addition thereto, he was required to open and keep a separate account current with the treasuries of the different counties, of the amount of moneys received and disbursed by them on account of such sales.

In reply to that part of said resolution relating to the patenting said swamp lands in 40 acre tracts, I have the honor to submit the following statement:

Section 3 of an act to regulate the sale of Indiana swamp lands and for other purposes, passed May 29th, 1852, provides among other things, that "it shall be the duty of the Auditor of State as soon as possible after the State shall receive her patent from the United States for the swamp lands, to cause to be prepared maps or plats of all swamp lands lying within the bounds of each county separately, showing the township, range, section, and parts of sections, together with the number of each, in which such lands may lie;" which map or plats were, by said State Auditor, to be forwarded without delay, to the respective county auditors.

Section 5 of the same law, provides also, among other things, that "it shall be the duty of county auditors to attend at the court house of his county, at the time mentioned in the notice of sale of said swamp lands, and offer for sale at public auction in legal subdivisions, and as near as practicable, in half quarter sections, all the swamp lands in said counties respectively."

This act, as will appear from the foregoing sections, seemed to require that maps or plats should be made out by the Auditor of State in legal subdivisions, and that the county auditors in making such sales, should be governed, as near as was practicable, with half quarter sections. In arriving at the meaning of the word legal subdivisions of land, we have to go to the expressions of the legislature themselves in the term immediately following, such word "legal subdivision," they say it means half quarter sections, and upon that meaning they order the swamp lands sold, or as near as is practical therewith. In one word, they say that no man can purchase less than eighty acres of swamp lands at such public sales.

Now, if the Auditor of State could have went to work and made out the maps or plats contemplated by section 3 above quoted, it would undoubtedly have been his duty, under and in pursuance of section 5, also above quoted, to make out such map or plats in the legal subdivisions, therein contemplated, and should the sales of such swamp lands have been made in accordance with the law referred to, it would have been clearly his duty to issue the certificates or patents to the purchasers, in such legal subdivisions. But the patents to the swamp lands, granted under the act of the 28th September, 1850, from the United States, did not arrive at this office until the spring of 1853, consequently the sales of said lands was not made in pursuance of the act of the general assembly of May 29, 1852, nor were the maps or plats made under the provisions of said law.

Section 2, of an act entitled "an act supplemental to the act above referred to, approved March 4, 1853," provides that "the auditor of each county shall also allow any person to enter a legal subdivision of forty acres, or less, when the same constitutes one tract according to the survey and plat of the United States Surveyor." Taking this act in connection with the act to which it is amendatory, we are led to conclude that the legislature of 1853, seeing the evident hardship and injustice which the former law would work upon the poorer class of community in this, that they should not partake of the benefits of the law, unless they appeared in competition with the rich, and bid off at least eighty acres, and that many of our citizens could not command enough means to purchase an eighty acre tract, but who could pay for a forty acre piece—amended the law first referred to, and wisely as we think, placed the legal subdivision at forty acres.

Taking this view of the case, and being compelled to make out and transmit to the different county auditors, the maps or plats contemplated by law, and being further required to make out and keep a complete set of tract books for this office, agreeing in description and quantity with said maps or plats. It became a very important question to me to so arrange said* maps or plats, and tract books as to correspond with the entries of such lands, according to the last legal subdivision thereof, as made by the legislature of 1853, it was self-evident that uniformity should be regarded in the maps or plats and the tract books, so as to correspond with the numbers of certificates, description, and quantity of acres sold. Hence, I deemed it to be my duty to follow the lowest legal subdivisions in the arrangement of such maps or plats and tract books, and in a consequence, the patents had to be issued in such a manner as to agree with the number, description and quantity, as shown by the plats and tract books, any other course in relation to the arrangement of this matter, would have resulted in endless confusion, and inextricable clashings of the entries and the records. Thus, to illustrate, suppose this office had went on under the provisions of the law of 1852, and made up the plats and tract books in subdivisions of eighty acres, and under the law of 1853, sales should have been made, as they were, of subdivisions of forty acres. What, I respectfully ask, would have prevented the inestimable confusion, which must necessarily have ensued, in regard to the numbers of the certificate of sales, and the numbers, description and quantity patented, and the records of the maps or plats and tract books?

It was impossible under the law and the circumstances of the case, to have pursued any other course in reference to the correct patenting of said swamp lands than the one which was pursued by this office. If the records should have been made in eighty acre subdivisions as contemplated by the act of 1852, it would have saved this office one half of the labor and vexation growing out of the forty acre subdivision required by the amendatory act of 1853.

These are the principal facts and points upon which the action of this office has been based in its discharge of the duties of the swamp land department; and in conclusion permit me to express the belief, that in selling the swamp lands of the State in forty acre parcels, it has been the means of swelling the swamp land fund to a great extent.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN P. DUNN,

Auditor of State.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Auditor of State:

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE,
INDIANAPOLIS, January 19, 1855. }

Hon. Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—The resolution of the body over which you have the honor to preside, “requesting the auditor of State to ascertain, at as early a period as possible, from the several auditors of the counties of this State, the amount by them respectively allowed and paid for the annual expenses of the common pleas courts, including the salaries of the judges, jury fees, and other expenses incident to said court, and that he report the same to this House.”

I think it impossible to collect the information desired in the above resolution in time to answer the purpose of this present Legislature; but by passing an act or resolution making it the duty of the various clerks of the courts of common pleas to report a detailed statement of their courts for the next two years, the succeeding Legislature would be fully advised of all the matters they desire. However, should your house insist on the notices being sent, I will try to have it done.

Respectfully, yours,

JOHN P. DUNN,
Auditor of State.

Which,

On motion by Mr. Humphreys,

On motion by Mr. Stanton,

The petition was referred to the committee on temperance.

REPORTS FROM STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. Spotswood, from the committee on elections, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee to whom was referred the petition of certain citizens of Perry county, praying that the seat of the Hon. Ballard Smith in this body should be declared vacant, upon the ground that Mr. Smith was not a citizen of Indiana for two years next preceding his election, beg leave to make the following report:

1. The persons who contest his seat have not complied with the provisions of the law in relation to contested elections.

2. Sufficient evidence has not been laid before the committee to prove that Mr. Smith was not a resident of Indiana for two years next preceding his election.

3. Mr. Smith holds a certificate of election, duly authenticated from the Clerk of Perry county, and has received a majority of the votes cast for representative by the voters of his county.

The committee think that Mr. Ballard Smith is entitled to a seat in this body, and respectfully beg to be discharged from further consideration of the subject.

The report was concurred in.

Mr. Ellis moved to reconsider the vote concurring in said report.

Which did not prevail.

Mr. Clark of Rush, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred House bill No. 37, entitled "a bill to repeal section 94, chapter 10, 2 R. S. 1852," have had the same under advisement, and have instructed me to report the same back to the House, and recommend its indefinite postponement.

The report was concurred in, and the bill indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Clark of Rush, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred House bill No. 22, entitled "a bill to amend the seventy-sixth section of an act entitled 'an act defining misdemeanors, and prescribing punishment therefor,'" approved June 14, 1852, have had the same under consideration, and have instructed me to report the same back with the following amendment, viz: Strike out all of said bill after the words "be and the same is hereby amended," &c., including said words, and insert in lieu thereof the following, viz: "be and the same is hereby repealed."

The report was not concurred in, and the bill ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Murray, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred bill No. 44, entitled "an act to amend section seven of an act entitled 'an act touching vacancies in office, and filling the same by appointment,'" approved May 13, 1852, would respectfully report, that they have had the same under advisement and recommend its indefinite postponement; and having fully reported, they ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

The report was concurred in, and

On motion by Mr. Schoonever,

The bill was laid upon the table.

Mr. Murray, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred the petition of Charles Whitmore, Mayor, and others, in reference to the inefficiency of the law governing our cities, "in that it inflicts punishment for the commission of crime only by fine, or imprisonment in the county jail," &c., and praying that the law for the incorporation and government of cities, be so amended as to give the proper authorities thereof power to inflict CHAIN-GANG PUNISHMENT upon all culprits whom they have authority to punish," would respectfully report, that they have had the same under advisement, and deem it inexpedient to grant the prayer of said petition. They regard the punishment proposed to be substituted for imprisonment in the county jail as too degrading for those trivial offenses as the punishment for which it is proposed, and as tending necessarily and directly to harden comparatively innocent persons in vice, and qualify them ultimately for the commission of more flagrant offenses against society. They regard houses of refuge, wherein such petty offenders may receive instruction, and be thereby led to reformation, as altogether better calculated to advance the well-being, both of these offenders and society, than the harsher means demanded by the petitioners, besides being more in accordance with the genius of our free institutions and the enlightened and benevolent spirit of the age. And having fully reported, your committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of said petition.

The report was concurred in, and the committee discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Mr. Murray, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The report was concurred in, and the bill indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Murray, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred House bill No. 40, entitled "a bill supplementary to an act, entitled 'an act prescribing the powers and duties of justices of the peace in State prosecutions,'" approved May 29, 1852, with instructions, have had the same under consideration, and instructed me to report the same back to the House amended according to instructions, and, upon its engrossment as amended, to recommend its passage.

The report was concurred in, and the bill was ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. Clark of Rush, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred House resolution instructing them "to inquire into the expediency of repealing or essentially modifying the statutes upon the subject of descents, approved May 14, 1852, and report by bill or otherwise," would respectfully report, that they have had the same under consideration, and deem it inexpedient to repeal the statutes referred to in said resolution; and that owing to the general and indefinite character of the resolution in relation to modifying said statutes, they do not deem it proper for them, without more definite instructions, to report upon the expediency of such modifications as are contemplated by said resolutions. And having fully reported, your committee ask to be discharged from the further consideration of said resolution.

The report was concurred in, and the committee discharged from further consideration of the subject.

Mr. Hester, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred a resolution of the House, instructing them to inquire whether the present school law extends to persons over the age of twenty-one years the privilege of attending the public schools, and if so, to inquire into the expediency of requiring them to do so at their own expense, without the aid of the public funds, have had the same under advisement, and have instructed me to make the following report thereon, to wit:

The present school law does not, in the opinion of your committee, contemplate the admission of persons over twenty-one years of age as scholars in the common schools organized under it, while at the same time that law interposes no direct prohibition against such persons becoming scholars therein. The necessary inference, from the language of the law, however, amounts to little less than an express prohibition. Regarding this as the undoubted intention of the legislature by which that law was enacted, your committee must be permitted to express their unanimous opinion against the constitutionality of any law to that extent which denies to adults the right to enter such schools as scholars. The language of that instrument is too plain to require interpretation or admit of doubt. It provides that "it shall be the duty of the general assembly to encourage, by all suitable means, moral, intellectual, scientific, and agricultural improvement," and to provide by law for a general and uniform system of common schools, wherein tuition "shall be without charge, and equally open to all." This language is very broad indeed—universal; and your committee do not feel disposed to limit what the constitution has left without limitation.

Nor do your committee regard the language of the constitution as less unequivocal in reference to the terms upon which scholars shall be admitted. In the system of common schools to be established under the constitution, "tuition shall be without charge," and as the schools are to be "equally open to all," all must be admitted on the same terms. Entertaining these views of the constitutional question involved in the resolution before them, your committee deem it unnecessary for them "to inquire into the expediency of requiring" the class of persons to whom said resolution refers, "to attend the public schools at their own expense, without the aid of the public funds," as such requirement, whether expedient or inexpedient, would, unquestionably, be in derogation of the constitution. Your committee can not too earnestly urge upon the House, the necessity of the early establishment of "a general and uniform system of common schools, wherein tuition shall be without charge, and equally open to all," and therefore recommend the subject to the consideration of the committee on education, and that said committee be instructed to prepare and report a bill to the House at an early day, providing for the establishment of "a general and uniform system of common schools, wherein tuition shall be without charge and equally open to all, whether minors or adults, as contemplated by the constitution.

The report was concurred in.

Mr. Hester, from the committee on the judiciary, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred House bill No. 50, entitled "a bill for the better protection of landlords, and to facilitate the renting of lands to tenants," have had the same under advisement, and have instructed me to report the same back to the House, and recommend its indefinite postponement.

Mr. Humphreys offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, Recent events plainly indicate that the pulpit is not always to be used in preaching Christ and him crucified, but is frequently to be converted into a political stump, from which fanatical demagogues are to vent fustian and falsehood for the promotion of partisan purposes, at the expense of the feelings of a respectable portion of their own congregations, who do not, under existing laws, feel safe in publicly exposing at the time, and within the sacred walls of a church, the tricks of these political priests, and thus unwillingly are compelled to permit impudent falsehoods to pass without proper correction, therefore,

Be it resolved, That the committee on the judiciary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of so amending sec. 37, chap. 6, of 2d volume Revised Statutes 1852, as to permit in the cases contemplated in the foregoing preamble, a respectful reply by any member of such congregations to such political discourses, at the same or any subsequent time, in the same or any other convenient place, without subjecting the person so replying to the penalty of said section; and that said committee report by bill or otherwise.

On motion by Mr. Hudson,

The bill and amendment were referred to a select committee of one from each congressional district, consisting of the following gentlemen:

Messrs. Hudson, Walpole, Hester, Wilson, Huffstetter, Carnahan, Frazer, Trusler, Hall of Laporte, Murray, and Jeter.

Mr. Jeter, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The select committee to whom was referred the resolution of the House requiring said committee to inquire into the expediency of so amending the common school law, that all assessments and collections on the polls and taxable property of the citizens of this State for common school purposes, shall be distributed in the counties in which the same shall have been collected, having carefully considered the subject, and examined the constitution, find nothing contained therein to prevent the proposed change. The committee are aware, that in a large portion of the State the great opposition which exists against this law is the consolidation of the congressional township fund, and the levying of a tax for general school purposes, which tax is frequently diverted from the county where it has been collected, and feeling the great importance of education, whose beneficent light sheds peace and happiness over this vast country, are disposed to remove every cause of complaint. Neither would the proposed change in any manner conflict with section 1 of article 8 of the constitution, which makes it the duty the General Assembly to "provide by law for a general and uniform system of common schools." Those who oppose the law in its present form, do not oppose the levying a tax, but the distribution of it in other counties than those in which it has been collected.

The committee, then, are unanimously of the opinion that the operations of the law, as it now exists, are unequal and unjust, and ought to be modified as far as possible without coming in conflict with the constitution. The committee have therefore directed me to report the same back to the House, and recommend the passage of the following:

Bill No. 78. A bill to amend an act entitled "an act to provide for a general and uniform system of common schools and school libraries, and matters properly connected therewith," approved June 14, 1852.

Which was read a first time and passed to a second reading.

Mr. Cain offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, it is well known that the citizens of Indiana are a law-abiding people, and are not disposed to complain of anything that is lawful, right and just, but it is a notorious fact that under the present existing law regulating the assessment and collection of taxes, that both real and personal property are sometimes doubly and trebly taxed; in order, therefore, to avoid such results,

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred House bill No. 56, "fixing and extending the terms of the Marshall circuit court," with instructions to inquire what is necessary to be set forth in an act to constitute a sufficient emergency to put it in force sooner than the usual course of publication, have had the subject under consideration, and a majority thereof have directed me to report as follows :

The majority of the committee are of the opinion that the language of the Constitution requiring, in such cases, the emergency to be "declared," in the preamble or body of the act, means not that the existence of, but that sufficient facts constituting such emergency, be stated in such preamble or act to enable the legislature and courts so to determine.

Strike out the last section and substitute the following :

SEC. 3. As this act contemplates the holding of a term of said court in the month of February, before the publication of the acts of this General Assembly, it is declared that an emergency exists for the immediate taking effect hereof, and that the same shall be in force from and after its passage, and that the Secretary of State be required to immediately forward an authenticated copy of this act to the clerk of said court.

This practice is safest and involves no doubts. The committee, therefore, have instructed me to report the bill back with the accompanying amendment, after the adoption of which, they recommend its passage.

The report was concurred in, and the amendment adopted.

Mr. Hester offered the following amendment to the bill:

“SEC. 3. All process returnable to said court, at the terms heretofore fixed by law for holding the same, shall be returnable under the rules of practice in such cases, so as to conform to the changes herein made.”

Which amendment was adopted, and the bill as amended, ordered to be engrossed.

The question being put,

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Alden, Beach, Bonner, Branham, Brazelton, Brothwell, Buchanan, Burnett, Buskirk, Cain, Carnahan, Clark of Steuben, Clark of Jasper, Clark of Rush, Clark of Tippecanoe, Clark of Union, Coen, Cotton, Crozier, Davis, Dickerson, Earl, Ellis, Essex, Fouts, Gifford, Gilham, Gordon, Gwinn, Hadsell, Hall of Warren, Hardin, Hargrove, Harryman, Hervey, Hester, Hillyer, Hudson, Huffstetter, Humphreys, Hunt, Jeter, King of Johnson, King of Madison, Landers, Lemmon, Lewis, Logan, Lowe, McConnell, McCord, McClure, McFarland, McMurry, Malick, Martin, Meredith, Merrifield, Miller, Monks, Montgomery, Murray, Peckenpaugh, Peden, Sanford, Schoonover, Sidwell, Shanks, Shryock, Shull, Smith Perry, Spotswood, Stanton, Studabaker, Sturgis, Tackett, Tanner, Test, Thomas, Todd, Trusler, Turner, Usry, Weir, Williamson, Wilson, Wood and Mr. Speaker—88.

So the rules were suspended, and the bill read a third time.

And the question being,

Shall the bill pass?

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Alden, Beach, Bonner, Branham, Brazelton, Brothwell, Buchanan, Burnett, Buskirk, Cain, Carnahan, Clark of Steuben, Clark of Jasper, Clark of Rush, Clark of Tippecanoe, Clark of Union, Coen, Cotton, Crozier, Davis, Dickerson, Dunn, Earl, Essex, Fouts, Gifford, Gilham, Gordon, Gwinn, Hadsell, Hall of Laporte, Hall of Warren, Hargrove, Harryman, Hervey, Hester, Hillyer, Hudson, Huffstetter, Hume, Humphreys, Hunt, Jeter, King of Johnson, King of Madison, Landers, Lemmon, Lewis, Logan, Lowe, McConnell, McCord, McClure, McFarland, McMurry, Malick, Martin, Meredith, Merrifield, Miller, Monks, Montgomery, Murray, Peckenpaugh, Peden, Sanford, Schoonover, Sidwell, Shanks, Shryock, Shull, Spotswood, Stanton, Studabaker, Sturgis, Tackett, Tanner, Test, Thomas, Todd, Trusler, Turner, Usry, Weir, Williamson, Wilson, Wheeler, Wood, Mr. Speaker—89.

The Speaker laid before the House the following report of the Secretary of the State Board of Colonization:

HON. DAVID KILGORE,

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

The undersigned, Secretary of the State Board of Colonization, has the honor to present to the Legislature the following report as to the condition of the colonization fund, and the proceedings of the State Board :

The sum of $5,000 per year was appropriated for colonization purposes for the years 1852, 1853, and 1854, making $15,000 for the whole period. In 1853, the Board appointed the American Colonization Society its agent for the payment of emigrants, and placed in its possession the sum of three thousand dollars. According to the account rendered by that society, two thousand, six hundred and ninety-seven dollars, and eighty-five cents of this sum has been expended in the service of the Board, leaving three hundred and two dollars and fifteen cents standing to the credit of the Board. There has been paid the Rev. James Mitchell, for services as secretary of the Board, to August 1, 1854, eight hundred and thirteen dollars, twelve and a half cents; and from that time to the commencement of this year, there has been paid to the present secretary two hundred and fifty dollars, for the services of himself and Mr. John McKay, a colored sub-agent in his employ. One hundred and twenty dollars, seventeen cents, paid at different times for printing reports of the Board, has been charged to this fund instead of being placed in the general bill of the State for printing. The late secretary borrowed from the fund on his own personal responsibility, with the written consent of the members of the board, the sum of two hundred and twenty-five dollars, to aid in defraying the expenses of Mr. John McKay to Liberia, on a mission in behalf of the Board; one hundred and twenty-one dollars and fifty cents of this sum has been refunded from collections made by Mr. McKay since his return, and the remainder stands charged still as an expenditure of the Board. Twenty dollars were paid in 1853, to two emigrants to Liberia. The whole amount thus far expended is four thousand and four dollars and sixty-four cents; leaving in the treasury, of the appropriations thus far made, ten thousand, nine hundred and ninety-six dollars, thirty-six cents.

The Board deeming it important to send an agent to Liberia to further the wishes of the Legislature in procuring a tract of land for the emigrants from this State, and also anxious to secure an agent to labor among the people of color who had visited Liberia, in November, 1853, commissioned Mr. John McKay, a man of color, and a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, who had satisfactory testimonials as to good character and qualifications, to proceed to Liberia with the first expedition of immigrants from this State. After spending some time there in making investigations as to the condition of the colony, he returned to the United States in May last. The Board ordered five thousand copies of his report to be printed for general circulation. A large quantity of these, yet undisposed of, are ready for such disposal as the members of the Legislature may think best to make of them, and should your honorable body consider it desirable to have Mr. McKay publicly examined as to the condition and prospects of Liberia, he shall be brought before you for that purpose.

From the 30th of May till the first of August last, Mr. McKay was engaged in visiting different parts of the State for the purpose of diffusing the information he had acquired in a personal manner, and assisting emigrants to go to Liberia. His salary and expenses for this time were paid out of collections which he made from the friends of the cause. When the undersigned was appointed secretary, it was suggested to him by the Board, that it was very desirable to secure the services of Mr. McKay as a traveling agent for some time to come, and he has accordingly made an arrangement for that purpose. Two-thirds of the salary of the undersigned is devoted to his support; and any deficiency above that sum, together with his traveling expenses, will be paid out of collections which he may make. The colored people can be reached far more successfully by one of themselves, who has seen what he describes, than by any other person; and this arrangement promises much for the progress of the cause. Mr. McKay will be employed for the most part in visiting different colored settlements, and his past success affords much encouragement for the future. It is hoped he will have fifty emigrants ready by next fall.

In November last, fourteen emigrants from this State embarked at Baltimore for Liberia. An aged woman with two married sons and their families, and two unmarried daughters, went from Greencastle; and a man with his wife and two children went from Montezuma.

The general interests of the colonization cause are as flourishing as the pressure of the times will admit. Africa, as the home of the free colored man, where he may move in the true dignity of his nature, is becoming every year increasingly inviting. About six hundred emigrants have gone out from this country the past year, and the number may be largely increased with a sufficiency of funds. The State of Indiana has been the first to engage, through the executive department of her government, in the direct prosecution of this work; and it is much to be desired that her future legislation may be so wise and liberal as to maintain her present high position.

Respectfully submitted,

THORNTON A. MILLS,

Secretary of State Board of Colonization.

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—The following resolution, passed January 23, by the body over which you preside, has been received:

“Resolved, That the Superintendent of the Insane Hospital, the Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, and the Superintendent of the Blind Asylum, be requested, as far as practicable, to report to this House the number of inmates of their several institutions who are the immediate descendents of parents who are allied to each other by the ties of consanguinity as near as first or second cousins.”

In answer to the above resolution, I beg leave to call the attention of the members of the House of Representatives to the statements on that subject contained in my annual report, which was laid before them a few days since, as embracing all the information on the subject in my possession at the present time. They will find the information sought on the 46th, and from that to the 53d page of the report, in the right hand column of statistics there recorded. The number known to belong to that class is there set down at twenty. But it must not be supposed that the catalogue in this particular is by any means complete. My predecessor in office made no record of facts on this subject, and my inquiries have extended only over a period of about two years, and embrace less than 75 cases. Of the 164 pupils now connected with the institution, very few of them are possessed of any information on the subject, and parents generally are found to be unwilling to confess to any relationship within the degrees of consanguinity above mentioned, so that it is very difficult to arrive at anything like full and definite information on this point.

From all the information I can gather, I am clearly of the opinion that, of the congenitally deaf and dumb, one at least out of every five, is the offspring of parents who have married within the degrees of consanguinity as near as first or second cousins. And I have not a shadow of doubt that the violation of this law of nature is one of the most fruitful sources of imbecility, idiocy, insanity, blindness and deafness that exists.

Respectfully submitted by

THOS. MACINTIRE, Superintendent.

Mr. Schoonover offered the following resolution :

I would here remark that one poor boy about twelve or fourteen years of age, was this morning found near the depot of the Crawfordsville and Evansville railroad, frozen to death, caused by drunkenness. We do hope most sincerely, that the present session will dry up the cause, as we see every day in our streets, loud calls for something to be done by the law-making power for the restraining this monstrous iniquity.

INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND, {
January 26, 1855. }

HON. DAVID KILGORE,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR:—I have received the following communication, being a resolution passed by the body over which you preside, viz:

Resolved, That the Superintendent of the Insane Asylum, the Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, and the Superintendent of the Blind Asylum, be requested, as far as practicable, to report to this House the number of inmates of their several Institutions who are the immediate descendents of parents who are allied to each other by the ties of consanguinity as near as first or second cousins; and that the clerk of this House be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the several Superintendents above referred to."

To which I have the honor to submit the following answer:

Since the establishment of this institution, one hundred and sixteen persons have been connected with it as pupils. Of this number seventy have lost their sight by accident or disease. The remaining forty-six were born blind. Of these, twenty-one were the children of parents who were first or second cousins before marriage. Three others are the children of a blind father, but the parents were not related. The parents of the remaining 22 are not known to have been related before marriage.

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. AMES,
Superintendent.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Superintendent of the Hospital for the Insane:

INDIANA HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE, {
January 24, 1855. }

HON. DAVID KILGORE,

Speaker of the House of Representatives :

SIR:—In reply to the resolution of the House of Representatives, requesting the Superintendents of the benevolent institutions to report as far as practicable, the number of inmates of their several institutions who are the immediate descendents of parents who are allied to each other by the ties of consanguinity as near as first or second cousins, I have to say, what I very much regret, that the records of this institution affords but four patients, whose parents were connected by the ties of consanguinity, and the facts associated with the history of these, were accidentally obtained. The sheriffs of counties or their deputies, in a large majority of cases, bring the patients to the Hospital, and in nineteen cases out of twenty, they are unacquainted with the domestic relations of the applicants; consequently I am solely dependent upon the admission papers for all previous history of patients. The law of inquest not requiring the medical witness to state in his certificate the information now sought for by the House, I have no means of affording you more unequivocal instances than the number mentioned above, although I am satisfied that of the two hundred and four cases of insanity, designated hereditary on the records in our office, the larger proportion are the descendents of cousins; if not immediate, at least in some of the remote branches. The records of similar institutions on this, and the continent of Europe, fully sustains the conviction.

Very respectfully,

JAMES S. ATHON,

Superintendent.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. Beach, from the committee on benevolent and scientific institutions, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on benevolent and scientific institutions to whom was referred so much of the Governor's message, as relates to houses of refuge for juvenile offenders, have had the subject under consideration, and have directed me to report—

That, viewing that provision of the constitution relating to houses of refuge, as an imperative one, which the members of the General Assembly have solemnly sworn to support, the committee were unanimously of opinion that the only legitimate question before them was, as to the best system to be devised in carrying out the injunctions of the constitution. In pursuance of this object, the committee have been untiring in their researches, and as the result thereof, have come to the following conclusions:

1st. That the constitution contemplates a system, which shall be capable of expansion, as the wants of the State, and the dictates of humanity shall, from time to time, require. The bill herewith submitted, provides for the erection of a house of refuge near the Capital city, of sufficient capacity for the accommodation of the officers and their families, and one hundred inmates. This, the committee believe, from the data before them, will be sufficiently large, not only for a trial of the system, but for the wants of the State for some years to come. When it fails in capacity to accommodate the class for which it was instituted, the committee believe that similar institutions should be established in other portions of the State, thus reducing the amount of travel, and bringing the inmates in as close proximity to their parents and friends as possible, consistently with the efficiency necessary for the success of the system.

2d. The committee believe that educational and industrial pursuits should be combined, in the efforts to work out the reformation contemplated by the constitution. They have therefore taken as a model for the bill herewith presented, the State Reform School, now in successful operation in the commonwealth of Massachusetts, believing it to be the best adapted to the purpose, of any system now in existence. The committee have assurances from unquestioned authority of the eminent success of that institution, and they have therefore preferred to travel in the beaten track of experience rather than to wander in the untried and often thorny paths of experiment.

3d. The committee are of opinion that the labor of the convicts in the penitentiary could be profitably employed in the erection of the buildings as contemplated in the bill herewith presented. In this conviction they are strengthened by the opinion and arguments of his excellency, the Governor, which were freely laid before them, and to whom they are indebted for this suggestion. They believe with him, that the leasing system for convict labor should be abandoned at the earliest possible moment, as not only detrimental to the true interests of the State, but as injurious to the moral well-being of the convicts, and as opposed to the spirit of that benign provision of the constitution which declares, that the penal code shall be founded on the principles of reformation, and not of vindictive justice.

The committee, in justice to their own feelings, cannot close this report without tendering to his excellency, the Governor, their warm acknowledgments for his many valuable suggestions in aid of their labors, and the interest he has manifested in having those labors brought to a successful issue in carrying out the beneficent injunction in the constitution.

The committee would further state, that so soon as the information sought for by the resolutions of the House, from the warden of the State prison, the mayors of cities, and the clerks of the circuit courts in relation to juvenile crime, is obtained, the same will be embodied in a separate report at the earliest day possible, and laid before the House.

The committee, in conclusion, beg leave to present the following bills, to recommend their passage, and aside from the above named separate report, to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Governor:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, INDIANA, {
Indianapolis, January 30, 1855. }

TO HON. DAVID KILGORE,

Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—You will please lay the accompanying communication before the House of Representatives.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

The resolution of your House of the date of January 16, 1855, accompanied by the report of the Judiciary committee on the subject of taxing the Wabash and Erie Canal and the property belonging thereto, has been before me for several days.

An earlier reply has not been practicable, owing to various engagements and a press of official business. The present communication is made in respectful response to the inquiry of the House.

The several acts organizing the canal trust, and the property belonging thereto, are silent in regard to the power of taxation by the State, and the intention of the Legislature of 1845-'6, and 1846-'7, can only be inferred by the expressed requirements of these enactments. It is important in the first place to see what is commanded by the laws, and what the duty of the trustees under them.

The tenth section of the act of January 27, 1847, defines and directs the mode and manner of the application of the moneys accruing and arising from the tolls of the canals, and the sales of the canal lands. That act declares, "that after defraying all needful and proper expenditures for repairs, attendance, and other necessary things appertaining thereto, which shall be first paid, the same shall be held and applied by said trustees in trust and security for the use and purposes, that is to say " After providing for the payment of work, labor and materials for the completion of the canal, interest, principal, &c., and the application of the funds in the order therein named, the tenth and last direction in the scale of distribution, and applicable to the trustees, is as follows, to-wit: to pay into the treasury of the State any surplus or balance which remain on hand after making the several payments in the nine preceding classes mentioned. And this, I apprehend, is the only mode by which these can be applied to the general purposes of the State.

The nine classes of payments first provided for in the order in which they are mentioned, would seem to preclude the idea of a new burden on the already limited means of the trust; and especially as the acts of the Legislature directed the mode and the manner of the payments, and classified them in the order of priority.

The fourteenth section of the act before recited is very explicit against a diversion of the trust funds to the general purposes of the State, and against their use except as provided in the tenth section. To this clause of the law I would respectfully call the attention of the Legislature.

It seems to me, however, that an examination of the 22d section of said amended act of 1846-'7 will dispel any doubts as to the power of the Legislature over those funds in the hands of the trustees. By the provisions of that section the General Assembly in the most solemn and emphatic manner pledged the tolls and revenues of said canal, present and future, lands and lots conveyed or intended to be conveyed, for the redemption of the stock and certificates issued in pursuance of said act; and then, for the purpose of removing all doubts as to what they intended by this act, use the following clear and explicit language:

“The said State shall not direct nor permit any appropriation to be made of said tolls and revenues, lands and proceeds, or any of them, for the general purposes of the State, or otherwise howsoever”

These remarks are alone applicable to the funds in the hands of the trustees arising from the trust, the lands owned by the trust, the canal, locks, dams, and the property conveyed in deed by the Governor of the State, in pursuance of the acts above referred to. It is not intended to convey the idea that the State has not the right to tax, as well as the counties, the warehouses, commission houses, or other property located upon said canal, and owned by private individuals, or even by the trustees.

I enter into no constitutional or legal argument on the subject of the proposed tax. This is not the time nor the occasion for the performance of such duty. I think the language of the law, the nature of the trust, (both having been created and enacted for the benefit of the State and her creditors), preclude the right of the State to tax the canal and its properties; and in my humble opinion, we should be guilty of plighted faith, by attempting so to do. I take this occasion to say, that a reference of subjects of legislation to the executive of the State, in advance of legislative action, is of more than questionable propriety, and is well calculated to embarrass the independent action of the co-ordinate branches of the government, contemplated by the constitution.

As the House of Representatives, however, by adopting the suggestions of the judiciary committee, have deemed this a peculiar case, I do not feel at liberty to withhold these views of the laws governing the rights and duties of the State in regard to this trust, and her creditors.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

Mr. Beach, from the committee on scientific and benevolent institutions, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on benevolent and scientific institutions, having visited the institution for educating the deaf and dumb, beg leave to submit the following report, as the result of their examination :

There are now at the institution about one hundred and forty-five pupils, who are receiving an intellectual, moral and industrial education, that will enable them, notwithstanding their unfortunate condition, to act well their parts on the great theater of life. In the industrial department, the institution is prepared to instruct its pupils in farming, gardening, tailoring, coopering and shoe-making. In the two last named branches of mechanical industry, the committee had an opportunity of witnessing the proficiency acquired by the pupils, which is creditable to the institution. The committee would also bear cheerful testimony to the order and neatness which are observable in all the departments; and also to the efficient manner in which the superintendent, teachers and all other officers, discharge their various duties.

The finances of the institution, are in a prosperous condition. At the close of the last financial year, there remained in the hands of the treasurer, an unexpended balance of $2,921 93. There will be needed for the current expenses of the institution, as per estimate of the superintendent :

From Nov. 1, 1854, to April 1, 1855,..... $5,000

From April 1, 1855, to April 1, 1856,..... 20,000

From April 1, 1856, to April 1, 1857,..... 20,500

For which sums the committee would respectfully recommend appropriations. The financial year, as the House is aware, terminates on the 31st day of October, leaving a hiatus of several months until the appropriation bills are passed and in force, unprovided for. Hence the necessity of a change, as above, to the first of April. The committee recommend an appropriation of $2,500 for the ensuing year, for lighting the Institution with gas. They are convinced that such an appropriation is needed as a matter of economy.

Which report was, on motion, referred to the committee on ways and means.

Bill No. 93. A bill to amend an act, entitled 'an act to authorize and regulate the business of general banking.

Which motion prevailed.

Mr. Murray, from the committee on the judiciary, obtained leave and made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The judiciary committee, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 21, entitled "a bill to adjust the Gibson seminary township claim, and for quieting the title of the Indiana university, to the State university fund," which was referred to them with instructions, to inquire and report whether the bill is not in conflict with section five of article 10 of the constitution of this State, have had the same under consideration, and concur in the following opinion:

The section of the constitution, referred to in the instructions of your committee, is as follows: "No law shall authorize any debt to be contracted on behalf of the State, except in the following cases—to meet casual deficits in the revenue; to pay the interest on the State debt; to repel invasion; to suppress insurrection; or, if hostilities be threatened, to provide for the public defense."

In the opinion of your committee, it is perfectly clear, that this constitutional prohibition does not apply to the adjustment and liquidation of existing debts, but only inhibits the creation of new ones. This bill manifestly does not fall within either the letter or spirit of the prohibition. It proposes to create no new debt, only to ascertain the amount of an existing debt against the State, and to provide means for its liquidation. The claim thus proposed to be settled existed before the adoption of the new constitution, as appears from the judgment, which was rendered in 1849, against the State, by the Marion circuit court. This judgment is for so much money, and upon it an execution might at any time issue against the State. To provide for its adjustment and payment, cannot, therefore, be said, with any degree of propriety, to "authorize a debt to be contracted," in the sense of the constitution. If it should be urged, that the section of the constitution referred to in our instructions is retroactive, the objection in the opinion of your committee, is sufficiently answered by the well established rule "that all constitutional and statutory enactments are prima facie, prospective only, and still further, by the manifest intention of the framers of that instrument in the present case, their object clearly, was to guard against contracting future liabilities, and not to repudiate honest obligations already contracted; besides, this question may be regarded as already settled by the supreme court. The constitution requires that tribunal upon the decision of every case, to give a statement in writing, of every question arising in the records, &c. This clause has been held not to apply to such cases as were pending in that court, at the time the new constitution went into operation; and upon this view, cases are constantly affirmed in that court, without a written opinion, merely because the transcripts were filed before the present constitution came into force.

Entertaining this opinion, in which your committee are unanimous, they have instructed me to report the same back to the House, and to recommend that it be referred to the committee on education; and your committee having fully reported, ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

The report was concurred in and the bill referred to the committee on education.

Mr. Logan offered the following instructions:

Refer to the committee on education, with instructions to amend the same so as to authorize a direct appropriation from the treasury of a necessary sum, not to exceed ——— thousand dollars, and to provide by law, for a tax on the property of the State to reimburse the treasury.

Mr. Huffstetter offered the following amendment to the instructions of Mr. Logan: That the committee be instructed to enquire and ascertain as near as may be, the amount due the Vincennes University, principal, interest and costs, and report the same to this House,

Mr. Beach, from the committee on scientific and benevolent institutions, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on benevolent and scientific institutions, beg leave to submit the following report of the condition of the Hospital for the insane:

The committee have carefully examined the institution in all its departments, and so far as they are competent to judge, would express their entire approbation of its management. The successful treatment of its unfortunate inmates, during the past two years, is a sure guaranty that it is in the hands of competent and skillful officers and attendants, and your committee cannot forbear expressing their conviction that the mild and gentle discipline to which the patients are alone subjected, in connection with the skillful medical treatment, is the great secret of this eminent success.

There are one hundred and sixty patients now in the hospital, the accommodations being filled to their utmost capacity. The south wing is nearly completed, and will be ready for occupation by the first of March next. This will enable the institution to accommodate two hundred and twenty-five patients, and the north wing, when completed, will increase the number to three hundred.

The appropriations for building the south wing, and for current expenses, for the past two years, were far from being sufficient for the purposes contemplated. The causes are fully stated in the commissioners' and superintendent's report, which has been laid before the House. To meet these deficiencies, to defray the current expenses up to April 1st, 1857, a period of two years and five months, and to complete the building, for which there is the most urgent necessity, will require the following sums:

Amount required to finish south wing, including the items and fixtures as per table 'A.,' column 3d, page 40 of superintendent's report, $31,237 11.

This sum, the committee are informed, has, in part, been advanced to the commissioners by the treasurer of State, and is already expended.

For payment of loan of commissioners for current expenses, to Oct. 31st, 1854	$5,000 00
For furnishing south wing for occupancy of patients,	4,000 00
For current expenses from Oct. 31st, 1854, to April 1st, 1855,	9,333 30
For current expenses from April 1st, 1855, to April 1st, 1856,	30,000 00
Amount required for north wing, for 1855.	25,000 00
For current expenses from April 1st, 1856, to April 1st, 1857,	30,000 00
Amount required for north wing for 1856,	30,000 00

The commissioners have also borrowed $12,000 from the sinking fund, previous to Oct. 31st, 1854, which they have expended on the building, for which provisions should be made.

The committee cannot see that any of these sums can be matecially lessened, or left out, without serious consequences to the institution, and to the cause of humanity, and they most heartily recommend the appropriation.

There is, also, a debt due the sinking fund, of long standing, amounting, on the 31st day of October, 1853, to the sum of $11,000, principal and interest. Provision should be made, either for its prompt payment, or the assumption of the debt by the State, thereby relieving the commissioners from their personal liability, as may be deemed best.

A library is much needed at the hospital, for the use of the patients, and a small sum is recommended to be appropriated for that purpose.

In conclusion, in view of the constantly increasing magnitude of the benevolent enterprise in which the State is engaged, and for the support of which, her faith is solemnly pledged by the constitution, the committee would suggest the propriety of returning to the policy of specific taxation, as being the mode most agreeable to the tax-payers of the State, and most efficient in securing the various institutions a continued and effectual support.

The report was concurred in.

The report was referred to the committee on ways and means.

Also to add the following additional section 5th :

SEC. 71. Each township assessor shall, at the time he is required by this act, make return of taxable property to the county auditor, also deliver to him all the statements of property which he shall have received from persons required to list the same, arranged in alphabetical order, corresponding with his list or lists; and the auditor shall carefully preserve the same in his office.

Be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows, to-wit:

SEC. 71. Each assessor shall, at the time he is required by this act, to make return of taxable property to the county auditor, also, to deliver to him all the statements of property which he shall have received from persons required to list the same, arranged in alphabetical order, corresponding with his list or lists, and the auditor shall carefully preserve the same in his office, and each assessor may, when making lists of personal property, correct all errors of assessment of real estate, which he may discover on the assessor's book, either in the name of the person to whom the property is assessed, by change of ownership or otherwise, or the description of property, and make return of the same to the county auditor at the same time they are required to make return of the lists of personal property.

The report was concurred in, and the bill ordered to be engrossed.

Mr. McCord, from the committee on education, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on education, according to order, have had under consideration Senate bill No. 21. "A bill to adjust the Gibson seminary township claim, and to quiet the title of the Indiana university to the university fund," with instructions in relation thereto referred to them, and a majority have directed the following report:

The amount of money for principal and interest to the 31st of December, 1854, due on the decree of the circuit court of Marion county, is believed to be $66,300 94.

The amount of taxed costs in the same case in that court and in the supreme court is, as follows:

Costs in the circuit court	$224 42
Costs in the supreme court	43 66

The Vincennes university has paid of the above sums in the circuit court, $169 14; and in the supreme court, $50 36; consequently there is now due by the State for taxed costs to the Vincennes university, $219 50, and to the clerks, $98 88. The Vincennes university has also paid the costs on some two hundred suits against the purchasers for the State, dismissed in pursuance of the law of 1846, and amounting to the sum of $308 61; and now claims that the State should repay this money.

It is claimed by the Vincennes university that according to the contract contained in the act of 1846, the Vincennes university is entitled to claim the money paid into the treasury by the purchasers, being $30,099 96, and interest thereon from the time of the payments, amounting, on 31st December, 1854, to the further sum of $34,530 72, and making with the funds in the hands of the commissioner, the total amount of $83,444 52; and that if the matter was now to be settled, that would be the sum to be paid by the State. The circuit court did not allow interest from the time of payment into the treasury to the day of the commencement of the suit, amounting to the sum of $23,795 06, to which the Vincennes university claims to be entitled under the law of 1846, on all equitable principles, but is not entitled to under the decree. The majority of the committee recommend the passage of the bill with the amendments following:

Section 1st, 6th line, erase "less" and insert "more." This amendment will limit the Auditor and Treasurer to the amount due on the decree, $66,300 96 and costs.

Section 2—add to the section, "Provided, That on 90 days notice at any time before the expiration of thirty years, in a paper published at Vincennes and at Indianapolis, of the State's readiness to redeem, said bonds shall be payable, after which interest shall stop."

Section 3, 3d line, after "whatever" insert: "of said decree and;" and in 4th line, after "to" insert, "or on account of."

WHEREAS, It has been shown to this General Assembly that the Merchants' Bank in the city of New York, (which, up to the period when the State suspended the payment of interest on her public debt, was the sole agent of the State for the payment of her interest, as well upon the general internal improvement loans, as the bank loan,) paid over on the 9th day of November, 1843, to the then agent of the State, an apparent balance standing to the credit of the internal improvement interest account, of five thousand seven hundred and sixteen dollars and ninety cents, which apparent balance, it is now evident, grew out of the fact that said bank had, by mistake, charged to the bank fund interest account that amount, when it should have been charged to the internal improvement interest account; AND WHEREAS, subsequently in a settlement between said bank and the commissioners of the sinking fund, who have charge of the payment of interest on the State bank loan, said erroneous charge to the bank fund interest account was detected, and the payment or allowance thereof by said commissioners very properly refused, thus leaving said bank in advance to the State said sum of $5,716 90, which had been so erroneously paid to the agent of State under the impression that it was justly owing, and which, in justice, ought to be re-paid to said bank with the interest thereon, therefore

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That the board of commissioners of the sinking fund be, and they are hereby authorized and directed out of the surplus revenue fund now in their hands for internal improvement purposes, to pay to said Merchants' bank in the city of New York, the sum of five thousand seven hundred and sixteen dollars and ninety cents, with interest thereon from the 9th day of November, 1843, at the rate of six per centum per annum, said bank at the time of such payment delivering up all internal improvement coupons in their possession belonging to the State, and which it is understood they hold to the amount of eleven thousand three hundred and twenty-five dollars.

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on benevolent institutions would respectfully report to the House that they have examined the condition of the Asylum for the Blind, and are satisfied that the same is properly and economically conducted, and still entitled to the care and protection of the Legislature, and are of opinion that an approprition should be made to cover the accompanying statement of the amounts required by said Institution for the ensuing two years, and for past deficiencies.

That although they entertain some doubts of the propriety of making an appropriation of the sum of $2,500, for the purpose of procuring an organ and pianos, under present circumstances, yet in view of the fact the blind are cut off from the ordinary avocations and amusements of their more fortunate kind, and that music opens to them a means of livelihood and rational amusement, and as the main object of their education is to enable them to support themselves, and as these objects may in most instances be attained by giving to them a thorough musical education, said committee have concluded to disregard their doubts, and recommend an appropriation for that object.

The committee would also suggest that an appropriation in addition to the amount already recommended, for the Deaf and Dumb Asylum to complete the veranda, the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, believing that the comfort of the Institution and the preservation of the building requires that amount of expenditure.

The select committee to whom was referred a communication of Isaac Naylor, agent of the grand masonic lodge of the State of Indiana, upon the subject of the erection of a monument, already commenced by said lodge, to perpetuate the memory of Colonels Joseph H. Daviess, Abram Owen, Stephen Mears, — Randolph, Captains Spear, Spencer, Bacon, and all other patriots and soldiers, who fell in the memorable battle of Tippecanoe on the 7th of November, in the year 1811, have had the same under consideration, and direct me to report that taking into view the fact that the Hon. John Tipton, gratefully remembering the services of his fellow soldiers who so nobly fought side by side with him upon the battle field of Tippecanoe, embraced the first opportunity and purchased the grounds where repose the valiant dead, the chivalrous spirit of that patriotic soldier generously donated it to the State of Indiana, that she might claim it as the burial place of her own and the sons of her sister State, that she might watch and guard it with the jealous care and affection of a vigilant and doating parent, that she might beautify and adorn it in a fitting manner, so as to tell the living that there sleep some of Indiana's and Kentucky's noblest and bravest sons. Your committee are unanimously of the opinion that it is the wish of the people and the duty of the Legislature to aid said lodge by a liberal donation in causing to be erected upon said battle ground such a monument as will do honor to our State, to the living and to the noble dead, that while it shall hallow the spot of the patriots grave it will stand as an enduring memento of Indiana's gratitude to the soldiers who fell in defence of her frontier settlements with her most wily and savage foe.

Your committee are of the opinion that for the purpose of carrying out so laudable an undertaking of aiding in building the said monument, have directed me to report the accompanying bill, and earnestly recommend its passage :

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on the judiciary, to whom was referred House bill No. 133, entitled "a bill in relation to what decisions of the supreme court, the reporter is to publish," have had the same under consideration, and direct me to make the following report:

The committee entertain very high respect for the person who drafted the bill, whose hand writing is seen in it, and although occupying a high position in the judiciary of the State, they cannot but think that a clause in our constitution has been overlooked.

The bill provides that the judges of the supreme court shall indicate at the close of the term of each court, what decisions are of sufficient importance to be published, and that those opinions, which are given on frivolous points, and those that are mere repetitions of former decisions, if the court so order, may be omitted in the printed reports.

The sixth section of the seventh article of the constitution says: "the general assembly shall provide by law for the speedy publication of the decisions of the supreme court, made under this constitution."

This injunction is imperative, and we think the legislature cannot discriminate as to what decisions may or may not be published. The "decisions," whether on frivolous or grave questions, or however often they may have been theretofore decided, are to be published.

The mere fact that a question has been decided again and again in one way has a tendency to settle the question, and to prevent the raising the same points in subsequent cases.

The committee, therefore, recommend that the bill be indefinitely postponed.

Which report was concurred in, and the bill indefinitely postponed.

2 o'clock, P. M.

The House met, pursuant to adjournment.

Mr. Frazer, from the committee on education, asked leave and made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on education to whom was referred the petition of certain colored people of the city of Indianapolis praying a participation in the school funds of the State, has had the same under consideration, and has instructed me to report that it is conceived that the taxing of the property of negroes and mulattoes for the purpose of establishing separate schools for their children could not be rendered efficient in the scattered condition of that portion of our population, and that the school fund of the State has never yet been sufficient for the legitimate demand upon it for the education of the white children of the State, and that it is not desirable that the children of the two races should be commingled in the same school. There is one matter, however, in connection with this subject which your committee deems it proper to present to the consideration of the House. By an unaccountable oversight of the committee on enrolled bills in the Legislature of 1851-2, the school bill of that session was published without the proviso to the first section, which exempted the property of negroes and mulattoes from the taxation provided in that bill, and which proviso was reported by the committee on education and passed by the Legislature. It is believed that under the operation of that act, the property of negroes and mulattoes was taxed in 1852 for the benefit of the common schools, whilst they were denied all participation in their advantages. Your committee believe that it is only necessary to mention the fact to insure a prompt refunding to these people of the tax thus improperly and wrongfully exacted from them, and report a bill providing therefor.

In regard to the admissability of these persons as witnesses in courts of justice, your committee respectfully recommend the reference of that portion of the petition to the committee on the judiciary, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration thereof.

No. 207. A bill to provide for the refunding of the school tax collected from the property of negroes and mulattoes under the act approved June 14th, 1852,

Was read a first time, and passed to a second reading.

The Speaker laid before the House the following communication from the Treasurer of State:

To the Hon. the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR:—My attention has been directed to the following resolution of the House of Representatives, viz:

Resolved, That the Treasurer of State be requested to report to this House the amount of money borrowed from the swamp land fund, and used for paying the interest on the State debt and expenses of the State government.

I have the honor to make the following statement in relation thereto, viz:

The books of this office show the following balances on hand on the 1st of November, 1854, of the various special funds which are paid into this office, to-wit:

Township and library fund	$19,532 00
Common school fund	47,718 94
Saline fund	3,186 61
Bank tax fund	4,206 99
Surplus revenue fund	192 59
County seminary fund	445 40
Michigan road fund	137 83
Swamp land fund ..	398,831 61
Three per cent. fund	32 13

Total amount of trust funds on hand	$474 284 08
Total amount of means in the treasury	255,660 32
Total deficit in the treasury which was supplied by using swamp land fund	218,613 66
Deduct deficit in university fund	1,913 56
	$216,700 10

Also deduct deficit in State debt sinking fund	16,178 19
Deficit in general fund	200,521 91

The intention was to reimburse the swamp land fund when the revenue of 1854 should be paid into the treasury, but I apprehend that the revenue will not be sufficient after defraying the estimate expenses of the government for 1855.

From present indications it is feared that owing to the failure of the corn crop in large districts of the State, and also in consequence of the depression and great disorder in money affairs, the delinquent tax list of 1854 will be unusually large.

Revenue of 1854, due the State on general fund ...	$757,000 00
By amount paid in	218,000 00

Balance yet to come in	$539,000 00
Deduct probable delinquency, say $\frac{1}{8}$, for 1854	67,375 00

Amount left after deducting delinquency	$471,625 00
---	--------------

Estimate expenses of government for 1855	483,138	69
Deduct January interest, 1855, on public debt, which is paid	$175,162	34
	$307,976	35

Balance in treasury after deducting expenses .. $163,648 65

But I will here take occasion to say the above estimate expenses of the government are entirely too small, which will appear from the single remark, that the January installment of interest and exchange for 1855, exceeds the estimate over $20,000 00, and that of July will be the same; then this estimate is too small by $40,000 00, which, added to the original estimate, leaves only $123,648 65 in the treasury, applicable to the reimbursement of swamp land loan. Therefore, according to the above statements, at the close of the fiscal year the State will be indebted to the swamp land fund a balance of $94,965 01; or, in other words, there will be a deficit in the treasury of $94,965 01.

The above statement is believed to be as near correct as it could well be made under the circumstances. We have had the charge of the office but for a few days, during which time we have been constantly occupied with a press of the ordinary duties of the office. Besides, the books for the last quarter have not yet been posted—in fact, one of the most important books of the office, has been in possession of the House committee on ways and means, ever since we came into the office.

W. R. NOFSINGER,

Treasurer of State.

Mr. Hervey, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The select committee to whom was referred the memorial of Wm. H. Churchman, have very carefully considered the subject, and are unanimously of opinion that the claim ought to be allowed. The facts are that the State brought suit against Mr. Churchman for defalcation, and that it appeared upon the trial, beyond all reasonable question, that the suit had neither justice nor law to sustain it. The decision was in his favor. His reputation as well as his pecuniary interests required him to defend. This he did, coming from a distant State for that purpose, at considerable expense and loss of time. The proceeding against him was clearly oppressive and ought not to have been instituted. Indeed it is believed that no private individual of ordinary prudence, after hearing the nature of the proofs to be adduced, (which might in this case easily have been learned, and therefore should have been,) would for a moment dream of calling his neighbor into court to litigate such a case. While the committee say this, they wish to add that they do not thereby reproach the motives of the executive in causing the suit to be instituted.

The committee recommend the adoption of the accompanying resolution:

Resolved, That the committee on ways and means be instructed to provide by the specific appropriation bill for the payment to William H. Churchman of the sum of four hundred and thirty-seven dollars, for counsel fees and expenses in a suit prosecuted against him by the State, which suit was unfounded and oppressive.

The report was concurred in.

Mr. Test moved to amend the resolution by adding the following:

And further, that said committee be directed to inquire with regard to the sum of $1,362 23, which is in dispute between the Treasurer of State and William H Churchman, late Superintendent of the Institute for the education of the blind, and take such action as in their opinion may be necessary to secure the restoration of said sum to the funds of the institute.

Which was adopted.

The question then being on the adoption of the resolution as amended,

Messrs. Logan and King of Johnson demanded the ayes and noes.

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Beach, Bonner, Branham, Brazelton, Buchanan, Burnett, Buskirk, Cain, Clark of Rush, Clark of Tippecanoe, Cotton, Dunn, Ellis, Fouts, Frazer, Gifford, Gilham, Gwinn, Hall of Laporte, Hall of Warren, Hervey, Hillyer, Hudson, Landers, McConnell, McCord, Meredith, Merrifield, Murray, Newcomb, Peckenpaugh, Sanford, Sidwell, Sims, Shanks, Shryock, Smith of Lagrange, Smith of Perry, Spotswood, Stanton, Sturgis, Tackett, Test, Thomas, Trusler, Turner, Weir, and Mr. Speaker—46.

So the resolution was adopted.

A bill to amend sections 5 and 6 of an act entitled "an act to enable the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad Company to avoid the incline plane at Madison," to provide for the sale of the interest of the State in said railroad, and to repeal, so far as it affects the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad Company, the 55th and 58th sections of an act entitled "an act for the continuance and construction of all or any part of the public works of this State by private companies, for abolishing the board of internal improvements, and the offices of fund commissioner and chief engineer," approved January 28th, 1842; approved February 28th, 1852. Also, to provide for the prompt payment of the floating or unfunded debt of said company, and also the debts of the Columbus and Shelby Railroad Company, and to enable the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad Company to receive, hold, and dispose of a certain amount of stock in said Columbus and Shelby Railroad Company.

Which motion prevailed.

The question then being, shall the bill pass?

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. Alden, Bartholomew, Beach, Bonner, Branham, Brazelton, Buchanan, Burnett, Buskirk, Cain, Clark of Tippecanoe, Davis, Dickerson, Dunn, Ellis, Fouts, Frazer, Gifford, Gilham, Gwinn, Hall of Laporte, Hall of Warren, Harryman, Hervey, Hester, Hillyer, Hudson, Humphreys, Hunt, King of Johnson, McConnell, McCord, McMurry, Malick, Meredith, Merrifield, Monks, Murray, Newcomb, Peden, Sanford, Sims, Shryock, Shull, Smith of Lagrange, Spotswood, Stanton, Sturgis, Tanner, Test, Turner, and Mr. Speaker—52.

That the Governor, Auditor and Treasurer of State shall act as a board of control, who shall proceed without delay to close all banks organized under the act aforesaid, which have heretofore failed or refused to redeem their notes of circulation with coin, presented at the banking house where they are made payable, within the proper banking hours, and for the purpose of redeeming the issues of said failing banks, it shall be the duty of such board of control to sell the bonds deposited in the Auditor's office by such banking associations, at private sale (without advertising) either in the city of Indianapolis, or in the eastern cities, or they may exchange bonds for the bills of the bank for whose security they may have been deposited; and where the same bank has deposited with the Auditor of State the bonds of different value, the bonds of least value shall be first exchanged for returned notes; and in no case shall bonds be exchanged for a less amount of paper than that for which they were deposited; and where they deem the bonds and other assets belonging to the bank insufficient to redeem the outstanding notes and liabilities, they may make such compromises with the stockholders as they believe will be for the interest of the bill holders.

be insufficient to pay the liabilities of such banking association, which suit shall be brought in the name of the State of Indiana.

SEC. 4. Whenever the bonds of such association, and their assets, have been converted into means available for the redemption of the bills of such association, such board shall give notice in some public newspaper in the city of Indianapolis; and such board shall prescribe the manner of redemption not inconsistent herewith, the time therefor, not exceeding twenty days after the conversion of such bonds and other assets as aforesaid, and all other regulations not otherwise provided in this act, for the protection of the interest of the bill holders of such association; and they shall keep a full account of their proceedings in proper registers, and make report of their proceedings to the ensuing General Assembly.

SEC. 5. Whenever any banking association organized under said act, shall fail to redeem its notes upon lawful demand, said board of control shall cause the same to be put in liquidation as is hereinbefore provided, for those banks which have heretofore so failed.

SEC. 6. Said board of control shall require all the banks organized under said act, to present their outstanding notes on or before the first day of May, 1859, to the Auditor of State for cancellation; after which time no banking association shall be permitted to operate under said act, and such bank failing so to do, shall be put in liquidation as heretofore provided.

If any of the banks mentioned in section 1, of this act, shall resume the redemption of its notes within twenty days after the passage of this act, it shall not be put in liquidation, but may continue its banking operations under the restrictions mentioned in the preceding section, unless it shall thereafter fail to redeem, when it shall be put in liquidation as is hereafter provided.

SEC. 8. No more notes shall be issued by any such bank after the passage of this act, than those already countersigned and registered.

SEC. 9. The demand for the redemption of any such circulating notes may be made between the hours of nine o'clock A. M. and four o'clock P. M. of any day except Sunday and the 4th of July, at the usual office of redemption of such banks, if there be any, and if there be none where such circulating notes are made payable, or no agent present thereat, the fact shall be stated in the certificate of protest, and that shall be all that shall be requisite to constitute a demand within the meaning of this act.

SEC. 10. Such demand and the protest thereupon, and certificate thereof, may be made by any county officer using an official seal, and the certificate may be in this form:

“STATE OF INDIANA, ——— County.

I this day presented for redemption the annexed note at the office of redemption of the (here insert the name of the bank), and the same was not then and there redeemed, or if there be a package of bills presented at the same time the certificate shall set forth

Which demand shall be made for all notes presented at any one time by any one person and shall be included in but one protest, for the certificate whereof the officer shall be entitled to fifty cents for the first note, and five cents for each additional note, to be paid out of the assets of such bank when it shall have been put in liquidation unless sooner paid by such bank.

SEC. 11. Whenever a protest substantially in the form herein mentioned shall have been presented to said Auditor, such Board of Control shall cause the bank whose notes are so protested to be put in liquidation under the regulations herein provided.

SEC. 12. WHEREAS, It has always been the usage of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana to choose United States Senators by a joint vote of the two houses of said General Assembly; And whereas, the only law, except such usage under which the Legislature of this State has acted in the election of such Senators, for the last fifteen years is the statute of 1837, requiring such elections to be made by a vive voce vote; And whereas, Section 13, of Article 2 of the Constitution of this State prescribes that "all elections by the General Assembly, or by either branch thereof, shall be viva voce;" And whereas, Section 3, of Article 1, of the Constitution of the United States declares that "the Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislatures thereof, for six years, and each Senator shall have one vote;" And whereas, it is the opinion of the House of Representatives that by the Constitution of the United States and of this State, the manner of electing a Senator of the United States is sufficiently pointed out "in the absence of any statute law providing for the same;" And whereas, to attempt the selection of a Senator of the United States by a concurrent resolution of the two Houses is an unusual mode of selecting such officer and unprecedented in this State—calculated to defeat the wishes of the people and a majority of their representatives; And whereas, the House is of the opinion that it is an imperative duty devolving upon this Legislature to supply the place of a Senator from this State, whose term will expire on the 4th of March next: therefore,

Resolved, That the Senate be invited to meet the House of Representatives in the Hall of the House on to-morrow (Friday) at the hour of 10 o'clock A. The committee of ways and means have had the subject of the swamp land funds under consideration, believing it to be their duty to examine carefully the amount of land sold, and also the proceeds of the sales, have made a partial examination thereof, and find several discrepancies existing; and as by the constitution of the State the proceeds arising from the sales of said lands are devoted to the cause of education, after deducting the expenses of selecting and draining the same; and as the committee have good reason to believe that a large amount of land has been sold, and the proceeds of said sales have never been paid into the treasury, amounting to the sum of one or two hundred thousand dollars, which, in the opinion of the committee, is a violation of the spirit of the law.

The committee also find that the papers, vouchers, reports and books connected with the same are numerous and complicated, and the session of this Legislature is now drawing to a close, they are compelled for want of time to defer making that rigid and thorough examination which the importance of the subject demands, and for the considerations and reasons above stated, the committee find it impossible to do so at this session, unless they neglect other matters of vital importance to the financial affairs of the State. Your committee therefore offer the following joint resolution:

So the bill did not pass for want of a constitutional majority.

Messrs. Brazelton and Smith of Lagrange presented the following protest, which was ordered to be spread upon the journal:

Believing that intellectual and moral culture are essential to the well-being and happiness of any individual, and that the means of attaining an education, or enlightenment and elevation of the mental and moral faculties, is the natural birth-right of all, from whatever clime; and further, that it is the bounden duty of the State to hold out the same means and inducements for the cultivation and elevation of the mind to the colored as to the white child; and also believing that no man is greater than another only as he excels in intelligence and moral worth, we therefore respectfully protest against the proviso of the first section of House bill No. 172:

1st. Because we conceive it to be in direct conflict with that great fundamental principle of the Christian religion which declares that "all men should do unto others as they would that others should do unto them."

2nd. Because it is virtually a denial of the avowed inalienable right of man upon which our Government rests.

3d. Because it violates section first of article 8 of the constitution of the State; and

4th. Because it is oppressive and cruel in its operations.

WILLIAM SMITH,
JOHN BRAZELTON.

Mr. Hargrove, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The majority of the select committee, to whom was referred House bill No. 75, a bill to more particularly define the boundary line between the counties of Gibson and Warrick, together with sundry petitions for and against restoring to Gibson county a small strip of territory containing twelve sections that were attached to Warrick county through mistake by the revision of 1852, have had that subject under consideration, and find that the subject of the boundary line between those counties had been a mooted question for many years previous to the session of 1847; that it appears there were twenty-four sections held in dispute between said counties until the session of 1847. It also appears to the committee, that until the session of 1843, Gibson county exercised jurisdiction over nine sections, and Warrick county fifteen sections of the said disputed territory, when, by the revision of the laws on county boundaries at that session, the whole of said disputed territory was attached to Gibson county by mistake, but that the Legislature of the ensuing session corrected said error or mistake by repealing that portion of the revision of 1843 which related to the boundary line between said counties. And the matter thus remained until the said session of 1847, each county exercising jurisdiction over said territory as before the revision of 1843, and at the said session of 1847 the subject matter came up again, and was referred to a select committee of the House, composed in part of the members from said counties; and that after consideration of the subject, the member from Warrick county reported a bill to the House from said committee as a compromise of the matter, which divided the said disputed territory equally between the two counties, and which became the law of that session, and which also fixed and settled the boundary line between said counties as contemplated in the bill now referred to the committee, and which remained so without further disturbance until the revision of 1852, when, in the opinion of a majority of the committee, a similar mistake occurred in the revision of that session, to the prejudice of Gibson county, by attaching to Warrick county the twelve sections allotted to and constituting a part of Gibson county, as fully settled by the aforesaid act of 1847. The committee in fully examining the subject, are of opinion that the change made by the revision of 1852 occurred equally by mistake with that of 1843, and without the consent or knowledge of the representatives of said counties in both cases; and therefore a majority of the committee are of opinion that with the same degree of right, justice and propriety, the mistake or error existing in the present case, should be corrected or remedied by legislative enactment, as was done in a former case by a succeeding Legislature, and for that purpose have directed me to report the same back to the House with the following amendment as a preamble thereto, and when so amended, they recommend its passage:

Amend by attaching the following preamble:

WHEREAS, It has been represented to the present General Assembly that pursuant to the provisions of sections 29 and 86 of an act entitled "An act dividing the State into counties, defining their boundaries, and defining the jurisdiction of such as border on the Ohio and Wabash rivers," approved June 7th, 1852, an error exists in the boundary line between Gibson and Warrick counties, which occurred by mistake in the revision of said act, for remedy whereof.

The question being,

Shall the bill pass?

On motion,

The House adjourned till to-morrow at 8½ o'clock, A. M.

FRIDAY MORNING, 8½ o'clock, }
 March 2d, 1855. }

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

On motion by Mr. Merrifield,

The reading of the journal was dispensed with, and so it was adopted.

Mr. Hester presented the following protest against the temperance law:

Protest of the minority of the members of the House of Representatives of the Indiana Legislature, against the passage of the Liquor Act:

It is wisely provided in our organic law, that "any member of either House shall have the right to protest, and to have his protest, with his reasons for dissent, entered on the journal." This is the last resort left a minority in the General Assembly, when an illiberal majority apply the previous question, to cut off debate and amendment. Nothing but it, then, can explain a vote which, otherwise, so far as the records of the country are concerned, is frequently liable to misconstruction. The undersigned find themselves in this predicament in connection with the passage of the temperance law of the present session. Containing forty-two sections, some of them of unusual length—provisions of the most despotic character, establishing rules of procedure in courts, and manufacturing testimony contrary to long acquiesced in principles of natural justice, and striking down constitutional barriers, which have hitherto been regarded essential to the preservation of human liberty, it was hurried through the Senate without debate. In the House it was taken up out of its order, and an ineffectual effort, defeated only by the constitution requiring a two-thirds vote, (which the fusionists had not the strength to give in the House,) to suspend the rules was made to read it a second time on the same day, though it was not to go into effect till the 12th day of June. On its second reading, the democratic members of the House proposed to amend by substituting a stringent law upon the subject, not obnoxious to the constitutional objections urged against the bill, when a fusionist obtained the floor, and, after indulging in sneers at the old line democracy of the Senate, and exhortations to his own political brethren to stand by the bill, and permit no amendments, moved the previous question, which the fusion majority sustained, thus cutting off reply to the mover's reflections upon the democracy, debate upon the merits of the bill, and all attempts to amend it. But, while our voices cannot be heard upon the floor of the House in explanation of our opposition to this great infraction of the fundamental law of the State, the journal of its proceedings shall not be silent in that behalf.

The history of the late canvass in this State, so far from indicating that the majority of the people thereof desired such a law, evidences the very opposite. No proposition similar to it was submitted to them. In truth, when leading democratic papers proposed to submit the question to the people at the ballot-box, directly, the ultra temperance men objected, preferring rather to trust to the complication of issues to insure the election of members to the General Assembly suited to their purposes. Reference to the resolutions of the different parties upon this subject, and the disposition made of them, establishes this beyond controversy.

On the 12th of January, 1854, the temperance men, in convention in this city, resolved "that no prohibitory law will satisfy the temperance sentiment of this State, which does not contain the principles of seizure, confiscation, and destruction of liquors kept for illegal sale."

On the 24th of May following, the Democratic State Convention, resolved "that intemperance is a great moral and social evil, for the restraint and correction of which legislative interposition is necessary and proper; but that we cannot approve of any plan for the eradication or correction of this evil that must necessarily result in the infliction of greater ones; and that we are, therefore, opposed to any law, upon this subject, that will authorize the searching for, or seizure, confiscation, and destruction of private property."

In these resolutions, was presented an issue, which was to have been submitted to the people at the ballot-box, when an accurate understanding of the popular will concerning it would have been had. But there were other elements of opposition to the democratic party, which could not be induced to act in concert with ultra-temperance men upon their platform. Impelled by a common object, the overthrow of the democratic party, and the attainment of power, the various antagonistic elements were fused into one faction, which, in State convention, on the 13th of July, 1854, presented, on the temperance question, the following unique resolution, under which every shade of opinion might be conveniently sheltered:

"Resolved, That we regard intemperance as a great political, moral, and social evil—a legitimate subject of legislation—and that we are in favor of the passage of a judicious, constitutional, and efficient prohibitory law, with such penalties as shall effectually suppress the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage."

This resolution met the approbation of the fusion party, composed in part of the ultra-temperance men. After its adoption, "search, seizure, confiscation, and destruction," ceased to be regarded as topics of the canvass, except when they were opposed by democratic candidates.

The election resulted in the choice of a fusion majority. That majority stood upon the platform of the 13th of July, the one of the 12th of January having been abandoned. In voting for them, the people looked to the former and not to the latter, which had been repudiated. This proposition cannot be denied. Otherwise, why the necessity of the change from the definite and positive language of the one, to the vague, uncertain terms of the other?

The assertion, therefore, that the people of the State, in the late election, demanded such a law as has been passed at this session, is falsified by the record. They have been deceived and their rights outraged. How badly, can better be appreciated by a brief review of the act itself.

1st. The sale of ale, porter, malt beer, lager beer, cider, and all wines, except by the agent appointed by the commissioners, is prohibited, and he is permitted to sell these articles, only for mechanical, medicinal, chemical, and sacramental purposes. Cider and wine are graciously allowed to be sold by the manufacturer only, in quantities not less than three gallons, when the fruits from which they are made are grown and gathered in the State. No person but the agent can sell a quantity of any of these beverages less than three gallons, not even for medicinal purposes. No matter what the emergency, the application must be made to the agent, and if there is no agent in the county, none can be procured without incurring the penalties of the law, unless of an agent in an adjoining township or city.

Every philanthropist is willing to yield up a very large share of his conveniences for the sake of the general good of society. But he has a right to be convinced that his concessions are necessary. Can it be maintained that cider is so obnoxious to the welfare of society, as to require the absolute abandonment of its use, or to surround its continuance with vexatious restrictions?

2d. No one is permitted to manufacture spirituous or intoxicating liquors, except he first obtain permission from the county commissioners and gives bond with approved surety not to sell the same contrary to law. But the purchasers of the article by them manufactured are limited to the agents. Outside of them the manufacturer can have no customers.

3d. The county commissioners are to appoint at least two persons in each township, who shall be provided with the necessary funds out of the county treasury, for the purchase of spirituous and intoxicating liquors. These agents, called officers in the act, are required to give bond, and under the constitution will have to take an oath of office. Yet, certain of the free electors of the State are rendered incapable of holding the office thus created, because of their pursuits in life, though these are recognized as honorable and are protected by law. "No inkeeper, or keeper of a public eating house, boarding house, grocery, oyster shop, fruit store, bar room, confectionery, or other place of public entertainment; or the keeper of or interested in any theater, museum, or other place of public resort; or captain, commander, agent, clerk, or servant of or on any vessel, boat, or water craft of any kind, shall be appointed such agent. Public policy, we are told, dictates this wholesale proscription of honest occupations. But permit it in this instance, and in how many others may it not be as appropriately applied? The application of the principle would create castes in society, growing out of business pursuits, the baneful effects of which can scarcely be imagined.

Temptations peculiar to their occupations, we are told, would the more likely induce these proscribed persons to violate the act, than any other class. With the same propriety might it be said that no merchant should be elected treasurer of the county because he might be tempted to invest the public funds in his business. The temptation is as strong in the one as in the other.

Why is a butcher more apt to observe a law he is sworn to support than the keeper of a boarding house? The prohibition extends to the person following, not against the place where the occupation is followed. So that the proscription reaches to the person who, for instance, keeps a place of public resort in one community, and lives in another. He is not even permitted to hold the office of agent in the community where he resides. Not the dignity of the office gives importance to this objection, but the violation of a principle fundamental to our form of government. An occupation, before it can deprive its follower of the right, per se, to hold office, must first be declared unlawful.

The constitution of the State declares that the "General Assembly shall not grant to any citizen or class of citizens privileges or immunities, which upon the same terms shall not equally belong to all citizens." It may be said the proscribed citizen may abandon his calling and then be eligible. But it will be remembered this constitutional provision is directed to citizens in their various lawful avocations as they are, not as they might be. It is intended to prevent the necessity of a change of occupation. Otherwise, it would be meaningless and inoperative. So well established is the principle that the Legislature possesses not the power to proscribe unusual qualifications for office, that the constitution expressly permits it to render ineligible persons convicted of infamous crimes.

4th. Our constitution wisely provides a separation of the State from corporate or individual enterprises. Past experience demonstrates the impropriety of such connection. Under the benign operation of this provision, and the legislation of the last ten years in part tending to that end, simplicity in the management of the affairs of the State was beginning to take the place of cumbrous and complicated machinery. But the enactment of this law has introduced new functions of government. Each county, in her corporate capacity, is to determine, through sworn officers, when a citizen needs spirituous or intoxicating liquors, and whether he possesses the requisite moral character, and is then to furnish it to him according to law. But the agent has first to be satisfied upon the question of character. From his decision there is no appeal. If he refuse, the application must be made, if made at all, either to some other agent of the county, or to one in an adjoining city, or township in a contiguous county. If there shall be none such, or they shall all refuse, there is no other resort but in violation of law. The purchase cannot be made by a second for the first person. The agent is, therefore, emphatically to sit in judgment over the moral characters, appetites and physical condition of the people, being governed only by such testimony and principles of equity as may suit his whims.

The act admits a necessity of spirituous and intoxicating liquors, and yet creates a monopoly of their sale. The agent is forbidden to sell these liquors at more than 25 per cent. advance. But who is to prescribe the cost of the first purchase? That may be exorbitant, and yet the buyer must pay the profit. Competition is driven out of the business. If men are so corrupt that they cannot be trusted with the office, because of their lawful occupations, nor be permitted to act as jurors because they habitually drink cider, it will not surely be denied that the agent might not by private agreement, pay higher than the market price, and then divide the profits with the wholesale dealer? True, the people need not buy of this agent. But if they do not, and the stock remains unsold, who loses? The county furnishes the funds, and she, therefore loses. And, if there be no other agent convenient, and the people feel constrained on that account to buy of the one so fraudulently purchasing, they are compelled to submit to the imposition.

The act requires the agent to keep an account of all his purchases and sales, the date, quality, kind, price, &c., and the name of whom purchased, and to whom sold, &c., and to report these facts to the commissioners, every three months. What strange combinations of powers and duties! Government prescribes when an article shall be used, and then dictates its price. Why not apply the principle underlying the act to the traffic in coffee, tea and tobacco, and various species of drugs? Their imprudent use is attended with incalculable evils. If it is in the province of government to enact sumptuary laws in the one instance, it is in the other. Why not then push the functions of the law making power to the extremity of legislation, and make man the creature, not the creator of government? Free institutions permit to man the largest share of individuality compatible with the good of community, while the absolutisms deprive him of all the arm of power can reach and control. Yet, a free people, rigidly adhering to laws prescribed by a power, acting under formal regulations, may be oppressed by their operation until their repeal is obtained according to the prescribed method. From that oppression there could be no other escape, but by revolution. To guard against such calamities, when free governments are formed, the people concede a part, and withhold a part of their natural rights, and the uninterrupted enjoyment of the latter, is carefully guarded by an organic and paramount law. Can it be maintained that the right to eat and drink what one chooses, provided its exercise does not molest society, is surrendered up to the influence of legislation? The end is not yet. Further encroachments will be made upon man's liberty. After while, in order to protect society against infidelity, it may be declared a crime not to profess Christianity, and after that again, orthodoxy may require undivided allegiance. The spirit of innovation is restless, and its advancements progressive. It always comes in the guise of philanthropy, and yet, alas! too frequently leaves behind it the foot-prints of tyranny.

5th. The manufacturer and agent have each to give bond in a penalty of not less than two thousand dollars. In case of a breach of its condition, no matter how trivial, the whole penalty is to be recovered. No palliation—no extenuating circumstances—nothing in mitigation can be adduced. Shylock demands his pound of flesh, and we very much mistake a liberal public sentiment, if the attempt to enforce the act in this particular, will not, in most instances, prove abortive.

6th. The act provides that proof of finding the liquor specified in the complaint, in possession of the accused, "in any place, except his private dwelling house, or its dependencies, (or in such dwelling house or its dependencies, if the same be a tavern, public eating-house, grocery, or other places of public resort,") is to be taken as presumptive evidence that the liquor is kept for illegal sale. This presumption of law he must remove by exculpating evidence. This rule cannot be justified by the case of counterfeit money, or counterfeiting apparatus. Spirituous and intoxicating liquors may be applied to various uses permitted by the act; the other articles can not. The possession of the one may be reasonably expected by a law abiding people, while possession of the other is always regarded as accompanying the felonious intent.

If the possessor be a tavern-keeper, the possession of the liquor, even in his own dwelling-house, and for lawful purposes, raises the presumption of the law against him. The moment his dwelling-house ceases to be a tavern, the rule changes, and no explanation is demanded.

7th. Whenever three persons of good moral character, residents of the county, shall file their verified complaint, "that any spirituous or intoxicating liquor is owned or kept in said county, in any place, particularly describing the premises, by any person, whose name shall be stated, and is intended for illegal sale, a warrant is to issue for a thorough search of the place and seizure of the liquor and the vessels containing it. That search may be extended to any dwelling-house in which, or part of which, a tavern, store, grocery, business office, shop, boarding or victualing house, or public room of any kind is kept," and to all other tenements where the occupier thereof shall have been convicted "of having sold intoxicating liquors in a dwelling, or suffered it to be done, within six months next preceding the issue of the warrant." Our constitution provides that "the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable search or seizure, shall not be violated." This provision is a concession wrung from despotism by the force of arms. It is intended to protect the citizen in the quiet enjoyment of his own house, his own domestic sanctuary, as well as his person from insult—to render the dwelling-house the castle of its occupant. So important has it seemed to the projectors of modern free governments, that a prominent place in their Bill of Rights has been awarded it. If it receive a strict construction its protection is ample. But if it be construed according to the caprice of every agitator in the world of reform, it affords no security and virtually becomes a dead letter. How does it comport with the section of the act in question.

Is the search "unreasonable?" The thing to be searched for may be cider, beer, wine, &c. The place to be searched may be a dwelling house, even though the occupant be not engaged in any business proscribed in the act. If there be a tavern, store, boarding house, grocery, business office, victualing office, or public room of any kind, in any part of the building, the whole premises may be searched. No matter how dissimilar the pursuits, habits, and position in society of the different inmates, because of the supposed sins of one, every nook and corner must be exposed to the impudent curiosity of a constable and his posse. Not a spot is sacred. The out-house, cellar, pantry, bureau, closet, cradle, bridal-couch, all—all may be subjected to the surveillance. Every bolt must be unbarred, and every door thrown open.

In justification of this outrage upon the proprieties of life, and the grossest violation of that feeling of delicacy which shrinks within the hitherto sacred walls of one's own dwelling house, we are referred to the instance of search-warrants for stolen property. How widely dissimilar the cases, how miserable the sophism predicated upon the alleged resemblance! In the one the article is charged to have been stolen, and the premises to be searched to contain them. Out of the necessity of the case the rule grows. Otherwise there would be little security against larceny. The possession of stolen goods, is never necessary, and is often strong proof of the guilt of the possessor. The possession of spirituous and intoxicating liquors is in many instances recognized by the act, as necessary, and in the section under consideration, they need not be charged as stolen. The law only presumes them to be forfeited because they are alleged to be kept for illegal sale.

If courts, in their desire to pander to inflamed and misguided zeal for reformation can reconcile this provision with the constitution, what security against unreasonable search is left the citizen? If the legislature can proscribe one article of diet, it surely can another. Nor can we solace ourselves with the assurance that such will not be done. The world is alive with propositions for reform, and if their advocates get into power (and who can now assure himself they will not?) further innovations will be made. The act, in requiring the affidavit of three citizens, before the warrant can issue, affords little protection. Zeal for the propagation of reforms carries their votaries to extremities. They may even act conscientiously. The Jews when they crucified Christ, the mob who cheered the executioners of the bloodiest auto da fe, and the judges who condemned to death decrepid old men and women as witches might have been honest. But society has a right to security against the passions and prejudices of infuriated bigots. That security is given to the people of Indiana in our constitution, if it receive the construction it merits by a judiciary not infected with the prevalent mania, and not awed by the threats of fanatics.

8th. The constitution provides "that no man's property shall be taken by law without just compensation; nor, except in case of the State, without such compensation is first assessed and tendered." But the act declares that spirituous and intoxicating liquors, in which property may be had, may be forfeited and destroyed by condemnation of law. Which shall prevail? What subtleties are to reconcile the conflict?

9th. Startled, as we must be, at these alarming innovations, what are our emotions when we read in the 24th section of the act, that "no person who shall, at the time, be an habitual drinker of intoxicating drinks, or who shall have been engaged in the unlawful manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquor, or who shall have kept any intoxicating liquor for unlawful sale, shall, within one year thereafter be a competent juror in the trial of any prosecution under" the act? In the first section, the terms "intoxicating liquors," as used in the act are defined to mean cider, ale, porter, beer, wines, &c. So that he who habitually uses either of these articles, no matter how irreproachable his character, or sound his judgment, is incompetent to act as a juror to try any case arising under the act. We forbear expressing the full extent of our indignation at this great infraction of the fundamental principles of our form of government. Courtesy to our fellow members, who voted for the act, requires it. But a betrayed people, now rousing up to a consciousness of the dangerous hands to whom they have committed the important trust of legislation, cannot be so readily appeased.

10th. The act forbids a trial of the right of property, or writ of replevin, in case of seizure. If the owner of the articles seized be even a woman, a minor, or absent at the time, nothing but an appeal is permitted.

11th. Whenever final judgment is given against the State concerning the property seized, the county must pay the costs of seizure, carriage, safe keeping, and return of the liquors, and the fees of officers, jurors and witnesses. A door is thus drawn open to the county treasury to constables and other officers. If the prosecution fail, the county pays the costs. The inducement to prosecute upon mere suspicion is strong, and among a people, whose Legislature proscribes a very large portion of the citizens of the State because of their business pursuits subjecting them to temptations to do wrong, it will not be denied that even a constable or other officer, may follow a ter—just a little—the scent of gain. What a consolation to an officer short of funds? But, what a grievous burden to a tax-ridden people, first compelled to furnish means to buy the liquor, and then to pay the expenses of the failure of the prosecution!

12th. "No spirituous or intoxicating liquor is to be given away, in any tavern, boarding house, public eating house, grocery, oyster shop, store, bar-room, confectionary, or other place of public entertainment; or in any theater, museum, or other place of public resort; or on any steamboat, or other craft carrying passengers." If a person in a hotel, or on a steamboat were suddenly attacked by cholera, or other disease, for which spirituous or intoxicating liquor is a remedy, neither the proprietor, or any one else, can give or sell him a drop. No one can do so but the legally authorized agent, without incurring the penalties of the law.

We, therefore, protest against the passage of the act, because it is not the expressed will of the people of the State; because it was crowded through the House, without opportunity being granted the minority except in two instances, to offer amendments to it, or to expose its manifold defects and outrages; because it is in several of its leading features a palpable violation of the constitution; because it bankrupts one, and disfranchises another very large portion of the people of the State; because the punishments it inflicts are in many instances excessive; because it establishes new rules of evidence at war with justice and in derogation of the dearest rights of the citizen; because it encourages and legalizes an odious system of espionage; because it regards men depraved in consequence of their avocations in life, though they are protected therein by law, in every civilized community; because it undertakes to legislate for men's appetites; because it creates monopolies; because it introduces complicated machinery in the county government, unnecessarily tending to deplete its treasury; because it constitutes courts with power to determine questions of appetite and character, upon no prescribed regulations, and allowing no appeal from the decision of the judge, whose whim is the law; and because its spirit and essence are tyrannical.

Having done all in our power to prevent its passage, we, the undersigned, Old Line Democrats, and National Whigs of the House, appeal from the decision of its members to that last court of appeals in a free government, the people at the ballot-box, with the confident assurance that their verdict will sustain our opposition:

Mr. Hudson presented the following protest against the passage of the joint resolution No. 2, on the subject of slavery in the territories of Kansas and Nebraska:

Protest on the passage of the Slavery Resolutions.

The undersigned, members of the House of Representatives, respectfully submit this as their protest to the passage of joint resolution No. 2, which are as follows:

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That our Senators be instructed and our Representatives in Congress requested, to vote and use their influence to procure the amendment of "An act to organize the Territories of Nebraska and Kansas," approved May 13th, 1854, so that slavery and involuntary servitude, otherwise than in the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall be forever prohibited therein.

Be it further resolved, That if before such an amendment can be procured, either of those Territories, or any part thereof, shall apply for admission into this Union, with a constitution tolerating human slavery, then our Senators are instructed and our Representatives requested to resist, by their votes and influence, the admission of such State, until she shall so amend her constitution as to forever prohibit slavery or involuntary servitude therein, otherwise than for the punishment of crime.

Be it further resolved, That our Senators are instructed and our Representatives requested, to advocate the return of this Government to its original policy, by using their votes and influence to secure the application of the Jeffersonian Ordinance of 1787, to all Territories now possessed by the United States, or which may hereafter be acquired.

We think the resolutions go too far—much further than the Republican party of this State desire to do—go further than, in our judgment, the people whom we represent wish to go—further than representatives in an American Legislature should go—and further than we, as individuals, feel any inclination to go.

While we would do much to accommodate the wishes of individual members of the House—much to advance the interest of the great Republican party, which in our judgments is destined to eventually control the legislation of every State in this Union, while we would sacrifice much to promote those ends, we must be permitted to pause and inquire, if the ends promoted are equal to the sacrifice made.

The question of human slavery is one of great moment with the American people—one of exciting interest, and perhaps of fearful consequences. No principle in the government of these States, or in the General Government is debated with so much enthusiasm, and about which there is such a diversity of opinion.

The agitator, boiling over with good intentions, looks alone to success, as the crowning obligation he owes his country—the Abolitionist, filled with the one great thought, sees nothing but the future equality and freedom of his colored friend—while the American statesman, taking a more comprehensive view, sacrifices his individual desires and wishes upon the altar of his common country, for his country's good.

The undersigned were much astonished upon the engrossment of those resolutions, by the fate of the following amendment then proposed by Mr. Stanton, viz: "That our Senators in Congress be instructed and our Representatives requested to use their influence to prevent the admission of any more slave States into this Union."

To this amendment the Republican party of the House, almost to a man, gave their opposition—and so furious was their opposition, that out of sheer kindness we have no doubt, the member from Wayne withdrew it—and well he did, for if it had been added to the series, it would have presented the anomaly, of two joint resolutions passed at the same time, different, 'tis true, in language, but in substance precisely the same. If this House is able to point out the difference between the third resolve and Mr. Stanton's amendment, they possess much keener discriminating powers than any of the undersigned.

We are of the opinion if you extend the ordinance of 1787 over all the territories now passed by the United States, or which may hereafter be acquired, you have then most effectually settled the question that no more "slave states can be admitted into the Union."

We would willingly vote for this third resolve did it not go farther than the platform of July 13th. But we are not willing to take this leap in the dark—give our votes to extend the influence of a law over territory that in the remote future may be acquired by our country—commit ourselves and our constituents perhaps fifty years in advance. Who can tell what circumstances may surround the American statesman, when he may be called on to determine whether the ordinance of 1787 shall extend over territories hereafter acquired—the Sibilline leaves have not yet passed before our visions, and we feel more inclined to adopt the maxim from the good book. "sufficient for the day is the evil thereof."

We are opposed to the second resolve—we are opposed to this repeated agitation in our national councils on the question of slavery, to our minds it is strengthening more and more—binding tighter and tighter the chains that now hold in thralldom the colored man; we are willing to stop the advance of slavery by all honorable and consistent means, but at the same time wish, as American citizens, to put a stop to those periodic whirlwinds, that come up from the South and stir to its center the popular feeling of the North—we wish to stop this exciting of sectional jealousies, this continued weakening of the iron bands that now bind together as one this Union of States, and while we recognize no geographical lines that contra-distinguishes an American citizen, still we know that there is a North, and we ought to learn that there is a South.

The following are the resolutions the undersigned are willing to support—which go as far as the platform erected by the Republican party of July 13th, 1854, and which we intended to offer as a substitute for those passed by this House, had we been permitted thus to do.

WHEREAS, It is the opinion of this General Assembly that Congress has the undoubted power to legislate for all the territories, belonging to the General Government; and

WHEREAS, The repeal of the Missouri Compromise was, in our judgment, unjust, unwise and uncalled for by the people of the United States; and

WHEREAS, In our opinion, the institution of slavery ought not to be introduced into territories secured by virtue of that compromise; therefore,

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That our Senators be instructed, and our Representatives in Congress requested to vote, and use their influence to place every branch of the Federal Government in the hands of men who will assist the rights of freedom, observe the Missouri Compromise, and refuse, under all circumstances, to tolerate the extension of slavery into territories secured to freedom by that compromise.

And be it further Resolved, That we are uncompromisingly opposed to the extension of slavery, and our Senators are instructed, and our Representatives in Congress are requested, to use all honorable and consistent means to prevent its further extension; therefore,

Be it further Resolved, That the Governor be and he is hereby requested to forward a copy of these resolutions to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

The following message was received from the Governor, by Mr. King, his Secretary:

MR. SPEAKER:

I am directed by his Excellency, the Governor, to communicate to the House of Representatives the accompanying bill No. 93, which originated in that body together with his message in relation thereto.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives :

I respectfully return to you bill No. 93, entitled "An act to amend an act to authorize and regulate the business of general banking," which originated in the House of Representatives, with a brief statement of the reasons for withholding my signature. I regret that so short a time has been allowed me for examining the bill, (it having been received by me at a late hour last night,) but I return it thus early in order to afford to the representatives of the people as much time for reconsidering its provisions as possible.

The most serious objection to the bill is the almost unlimited discretionary power which it confides to a single officer—the Auditor of State—such as the power at any time to change the stocks which are a security for the issues of a bank, the power to determine, in organizing a bank, the question of residence, the power to determine whether a good defence exists or not to a protested note—thus determining in effect whether the bank shall be wound up or not.

There is an ostensible effort, to be sure, to distribute the powers under the bill to the Governor, Auditor, and Secretary of State; but on examination it will be found that those powers which should be most narrowly watched are confided to the Auditor alone.

There can be no objection to the Auditor signing and registering the bills, but here his duties should cease. It is not good policy to confide a trust requiring so much judgment, so much reflection, so large a knowledge upon financial questions, and so delicate a caution at every step, to any one person, and especially to one, the onerous duties of whose office it is known are quite enough at least to engross the entire attention of any one man. An error of judgment, whether committed through ignorance, or haste, or incaution, is equally disastrous. Besides, while I have not the slightest reason to call in question the integrity of the late Auditor, or the present incumbent, yet it is not too much to say, that the vast interests which might be brought to bear upon an Auditor under the present law to secure a particular construction, or the doing or forbearing to do a particular act, might be well calculated to shake the integrity of any man who is not fortified by a more immovable virtue than usually falls to the lot of men.

It is proposed, however, by the present bill, to devolve a share of the responsibilities and labor of the system upon the Governor and Treasurer of State. To show the impolicy of this provision it is sufficient to say that the duties now imposed by law upon those officers are as great as they are able fitly to perform. To assume properly to discharge the duties imposed, would necessarily involve a neglect of some other of the public interests. It is not well to impose duties so great and multifarious upon any one officer.—There is a limit to those which he is able to perform or properly supervise, and when that limit is passed the duties have to be entrusted to others, who are not elected by and are irresponsible to the people.

The bill of 1852 was surely loose enough, but the construction given to it by the Auditor, and the power exercised under it by him, have abundantly satisfied me that nothing short of a separate Bank Department, having the custody of the securities, the bills, the plates, the dies, &c., will insure a system worthy of the slightest confidence of the people.

We have been sufficiently warned by the experience of the past two years, that where corporations have once obtained power, it is almost impossible by legislation to arrest the evils to which they give rise. An earnest effort was made in the Legislature two years ago to correct those evils in the free bank system, which were obvious to every reflecting person; yet nothing could be effected. And now again after the lapse of two years, during which period sharpers and brokers have literally been rioting upon the substance of the people, and after eight weeks labor of the people's representatives, a measure is offered which does not at all strike at the root of these evils; and which, in its effects, it is feared, will rather aggravate than allay, them. Owing to the general loss of confidence in the general free bank system, which has grown out of the shameless frauds which have been practiced under it, the evils which those banks are able to commit, have, to a considerable extent, been corrected by the general distrust of those institutions. But is feared that the present bank bill would increase those evils, by providing no sufficient safeguard against their recurrence, and by exciting confidence from being ushered in under the auspices of an effort to put an end to the causes of the present discontent.

By the present bill, stocks of every State and Territory of the United States at whatever price speculators and brokers may give them in New York are to furnish the basis of banking; and the scene is again to be renewed, of speculators and brokers seeking our State, to issue paper to circulate as money, and when the ripe moment arrives to depreciate the stocks upon which they are based, buy up their paper at a heavy discount and reap from the industrial classes of the State immense gains.

The experience of other States where a system of banking based upon public stocks has been tried, has demonstrated to them the insecurity resulting from the indiscriminate reception of all State stocks; and after the calamities of the past two years, it would be well for us to defer to that experience. In New York it is believed that no stocks are received as a basis for banking but those of that State and the United States.

If a like system were adopted by us, the intelligence of the people as to the resources and financial condition of the State, and indeed of the General Government, would furnish them a proper estimate of the worth of our State and United States stocks, and the value of the paper issued upon them would not be fluctuating according to the news received daily from Wall street.

In relation to the financial resources and condition of other States the people cannot generally acquaint themselves, and the value of paper issued upon them must necessarily be affected by every day's transactions at the stock board at New York. In my judgment, too, the business of banking should be limited to our own citizens, so that the banker's personal character, and State pride, might be an additional safeguard against fraud. And it should be provided with the utmost precision, and under the sternest penalties, that the business of the banks should be transacted at the place where the bills are made payable.

It was competent under the law of 1852 for the Auditor to wind up any bank not doing business at the place where its bills were payable. Yet a majority never pretended to do so, from the commencement to the present day. The Legislature was respectfully urged by me in 1853 to direct by law that this class of banks should be thus wound up. That recommendation was earnestly renewed by me at the present session, yet it is to be regretted that the present Legislature has not seen fit to take any action on the subject. Near one hundred thousand dollars of interest was paid in cash, on the 1st of January, 1855, in New York, upon stocks in banks which have refused, for more than five months past, to redeem a dollar of their paper; yet the paper issued upon those stocks is passing for less than the value of the stocks, and no action has yet been taken for the realization of this large amount of interest, which should have added greatly to the value of the paper.

If this sum of money has been invested as required by law, in additional securities, no information of that fact has been made public. This of itself shows the impropriety of leaving these questions so deeply affecting the interest of the people to any other than a Bank department, in the hands of men of high financial character, having the confidence of the people, and specially charged with so important a trust.

There is much ostensible effort made in this bill to secure the bill holder after the bank has failed, but very insignificant precautions are provided to prevent the failure.

The laborer, who ignorant of the details of banking, is always seized with the first panic, will dispose of his paper at a ruinous discount, but the broker may be amply provided for!

Entertaining fixed opinions in favor of a gold and silver currency, no bill can receive my sanction which does not in my judgment provide, in the first place, an unquestionable security for the bill holder, and secondly, a most certain safeguard against the recurrence of the distressing evils which have grown out of the present bank system.

It is said the present law will continue if this bill does not pass. Be this as it may, the responsibility does not rest upon the executive department.

My views were so clearly stated in my last two messages, that it is hardly possible they could have been misunderstood.

It is my deliberate conviction that the discretionary powers given by this bill are equally as large and would be productive of evils equally as disastrous as those in the act of which it is amendatory.

An examination of the Auditor's office will convince any person of the insecurity of the stocks, dies, plates, &c., there deposited.

Thousands of dollars have been returned, marked and cut, yet unregistered and undestroyed, and liable again to be put in circulation.

Notes have been presented to banks for payment, which have never been registered.

It is impossible, gentlemen, to give the public confidence in any system managed as the present has been; and the sooner it is put into other hands competent and faithful, or entirely wound up, the better it will be for the people and for the character of the State, which has suffered a loss already which it will take years to relieve.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

Sec. 77. The books and papers of his department shall be kept at the seat of government.

Sec. 78. He shall be ex officio President of the State board of education, preside at all meetings thereof, propose such measures for consideration and adoption as in his judgment may best subserve the interests committed to said board, and increase the efficiency of their individual labors, and submit for their inspection and approval a list of text books for schools, and a catalogue of suitable works for school libraries.

Sec. 79. He shall receive and promptly determine appeals from township trustees, exercise such supervision over the educational funds as may be necessary to ascertain their safety and secure their preservation, and cause to be instituted in the name of the State of Indiana, for the use of the common school fund, all suits necessary for the recovery of any portion of said funds.

Sec. 80. He may require of county auditors, treasurers, township trustees, clerks and treasurers, copies of all reports by them required to be made, and all such other information in relation to the duties of their respective offices, and the condition of the funds and property of common schools, and the condition and management of such schools as he may deem important.

Sec. 81. He shall prepare and transmit to the proper officers, suitable forms and regulations for making all reports, and conducting all necessary proceedings under this act, and all necessary instructions for the better organization and government of common schools.

A statement of the condition and amount of all funds and property appropriated to purposes of education;

A statement of the number of common schools in this State,—the number of scholars in attendance,—their ages, sex, and the branches taught;

A statement of the number of private or select schools in the State, so far as the same can be ascertained,—the number of scholars, their ages, sex, and branches taught;

Estimates and accounts of the expenditures of the public school fund;

Plans for the management and improvement of the common school fund, and for the better organization of common schools.

LANDS BELONGING TO COMMON SCHOOLS.

Sec. 85. The custody and control of all lands belonging to the common school fund, shall be with the trustees of the civil township in which the same shall be situated.

Sec. 86. They shall have power to lease such lands for any term not exceeding three years, reserving rents payable in money, property, or improvements to be made on the land.

Sec. 87. But if directed by a vote of a majority of voters of such township, such leases may be made for any term not exceeding ten years.

Sec. 88. Townships may acquire land by devise or gift, and hold the same in accordance with such gift or devise.

Sec. 89. Such trustees shall have all rights and powers of a landlord, either in their official names, or in the corporate name of the township, in coercing fulfilment of contracts relating to such lands, and preventing waste or damage, or of recovery for the same when committed.

Sec. 90. Such trustees shall preserve all personal property belonging to such township, and may sell the same, from time to time, in such manner as will best promote the interest of such township.

Sec. 91. At any time when five voters of any township shall, by petition to the trustees, set forth their desire for the sale of all or any part of the land in such township, at any time before notice is given for the annual election of trustees, such trustees shall insert in such notice the further notice that a balloting will then be had to determine whether the land so petitioned for shall be sold or not.

Sec. 92. A copy of such petition shall be entered on the book containing the record of the proceedings of such trustees, together with the time of its reception, and their action thereon.

Sec. 93. If a voter favor the sale of such land, he shall write the word "sale;" if he opposes the sale, he will write the words "no sale."

Sec. 94. No such sale shall be allowed, unless a majority of all the votes cast in such township shall vote in favor of it, and unless the number of votes constituting such majority shall exceed fifteen.

Sec. 95. A certificate showing the number of votes given for and against such sale, shall be made out and signed, and within seven days after such election, filed with the clerk of such township.

Sec. 96. Such trustees shall enter such return on their record books, and if satisfied that a majority, and more than fifteen voters have voted for such sale, they shall enter their opinion on their record book, and shall proceed.

First. To divide the land so voted to be sold into such lots as will insure the best price.

Second. To affix a minimum price to each lot, not less than one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, below which it shall not be sold.

Third. To certify such division and appraisement to the proper county auditor, together with a copy of all their proceedings had in relation to the sale of said lands.

Sec. 97. Such certificate and return shall, by such auditor, be laid before the board of county commissioners, at their first meeting thereafter, and said board, if satisfied that the requirements of the law have been substantially complied with, shall direct such land to be sold, which sale shall be conducted as follows:

First. It shall be made by the auditor and treasurer.

Second. Four weeks notice of the same shall be given, by posting up notices thereof in three of the most public places in the township where the land is situated, and at the court house door, and by publication in a newspaper published in said county, if any, otherwise in the newspaper in the State nearest thereto.

Sec. 98. One-fourth of the purchase money shall be paid in hand, and interest for the residue for one year in advance, and the residue in ten years from such sale, with like interest annually in advance.

Sec. 99. On failure to pay any such annual interest, when the same becomes due, the contract shall be forfeited, and the land shall immediately revert to the township, and the auditor shall forthwith proceed again to sell the same on the terms above specified.

Sec. 100. If, on such second sale, such land shall produce more than sufficient to pay the sum owing therefor, with interest and costs, and five per cent. damages, the residue shall, when collected, be paid over to the first purchaser, or his legal representative.

Sec. 101. At any time before sale, payment of the sum due, with interest for the delay, and all costs, together with two per cent. damages on the whole sum owing for said land, shall prevent such sale, and revive the original contract.

Sec. 102. In case of such forfeiture, the original purchaser may be sued for waste, or unnecessary injury done to such land.

Sec. 103. Such suit shall be prosecuted by the auditor, in the name of the State, for the use of the common school fund.

Sec. 104. The former owner of such delinquent land, his heirs, or assigns, may, within one year after sale, redeem the same by paying to the purchaser, his heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, or by depositing with the treasurer of the proper county, the amount of purchase money paid by such purchaser, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, together with all subsequent payments for taxes, interest or principal, which such purchaser, or those claiming under him, may have made thereon.

Sec. 105. When any land offered for sale shall remain unsold, the county auditor may dispose of the same at private sale, for the best price that can be had therefor, not being less than the minimum price affixed thereto.

Sec. 106. A certified statement of such sale shall be made and signed by the auditor, and being first recorded by the county auditor in the records of the board of county commissioners, shall be delivered to the purchaser when he makes his first payment, and shall entitle him to a deed when the terms of such purchase shall have been fully complied with.

Sec. 107. Every purchaser, until forfeiture, shall be entitled to all the rights of possession, before existing in such townships, and of all rights and remedies for rents becoming due, or breaches of covenant accruing after his purchase, under any lease existing at the time of his purchase, and for all waste committed thereafter.

Sec. 108. A purchaser at such sale, failing to make the first payment as above required, shall pay ten per centum on the sum bid, to be recovered by action before any court having jurisdiction, to be prosecuted for by the county auditor, in the name of the State, for the use of the common school fund, and the auditor and treasurer shall be competent witnesses.

Sec. 109. Assignments of certificates of purchase shall be valid only if acknowledged before the county auditor, who shall record the same.

Sec. 110. When a residue of purchase money becomes due, the purchaser may retain the same as a loan, from year to year, on payment annually in advance of the interest thereon, at the rate then established by law on loan of such funds; but he shall receive no deed until full payment is made; and the General Assembly may at any time hereafter so change the law as to require payment of such purchase money after the original credit has expired, giving the party one year's notice.

Sec. 111. Purchasers may at any time before due, pay a part or the whole of such purchase money.

Sec. 112. When any such certificate shall be lost or destroyed, before a deed be made, on proof thereof by affidavit of the person interested, or other competent testimony, to be filed with the county auditor, and after three months notice of intention to apply for a new certificate, given in some newspaper published nearest to where the land lies, such auditor may issue the same to the person entitled thereto.

Sec. 113. Purchase money and interest, and all costs and damages above provided for, shall be paid to the treasurer of the proper county, and his receipt therefor filed by the person paying with the county auditor, who shall issue his quietus therefor.

Sec. 114. When such payment is in completion of any contract of sale, the amount of such receipt shall be endorsed by the county auditor on the certificate of purchase.

Sec. 115. On full payment for such land, a deed shall be executed by the county auditor, and entered on the record book of the board of county commissioners.

Sec. 116. Such deed shall be acknowledged at the cost of the grantee by the county auditor, as in other cases, and thus executed and delivered, shall vest in the grantee, his heirs and assigns forever, a complete title to the land.

Sec. 117. The voters of any township may, in the absence of a vote to sell land, and in lieu thereof, petition the board of township trustees for such sale; and such petition, if signed by a majority of all the voters of the township, be filed with the county auditor, and the same proceedings shall be had as are provided in the preceding sections upon a vote of the inhabitants of the township for such sale. Such petition and certificate shall also be recorded in the record book of the board of township trustees, and of the county auditor.

Sec. 118. When a majority of the voters shall, by petition, designate any place in the township as the place of sale of any school land, the said petition duly certified and recorded in the record of the board of township trustees, shall be filed with the county auditor who shall record the same, and thereupon such sale shall be held at such place in the township, instead of at the court house, as hereinbefore provided.

Sec. 119. All moneys derived from rents of a school section, or from lands heretofore acquired by a township for other than ordinary school purposes, shall be paid to the county treasurer.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

Sec. 120. The books, papers, and accounts of any township trustee, their clerk or treasurer, shall be subject to the inspection of the county auditor, and of the board of county commissioners of the proper county.

Sec. 121. For the purpose of said inspection, said board of county commissioners and auditor may, by subpoena, summon before them any such trustees, clerk, or treasurer, and require the production of such books, three days' notice of the time to appear or produce being given.

Sec. 122. If such books have been imperfectly kept, said board of commissioners may correct them; and if fraud appear, shall remove the person guilty thereof.

Sec. 127. Any person who shall sue for, or on account of, any decision, act, refusal or neglect of duty of the township trustees, or of county auditor, for which he might have had an appeal according to the provisions of the two preceding sections, shall not recover costs.

Sec. 128. No teacher shall be employed unless he be of good moral character, nor until he shall have procured a certificate of qualification as provided in this act.

Sec. 129. The words 'county auditor,' in this act, shall be construed to mean the county auditor or clerk of the circuit court doing the business of such auditor.

Sec. 130. Debts heretofore contracted by any school district for school purposes, shall be provided for by the township or townships in which it is situated.

Sec. 131. All common schools shall be open to the pupils thereof without charge.

Sec. 132. The auditor shall take an account of the amount of the surplus revenue fund heretofore distributed to the several counties of this State, and also on account of the proportion to which each county would be now entitled according to the number of taxable polls in each, and shall equalize the amount of State funds in each county according to population, as far as may be, by means of the saline and bark tax funds annually distributed from the State.

They shall have power to establish graded schools, and generally to do and perform all other acts which, by this act, are authorized to be done and performed by township trustees: Provided, however, That in case any school district within the limits of such city or town, shall have heretofore contracted debts for school purposes, the said city or town shall make provisions for the payment thereof. The same transfers may be made for educational purposes from the neighborhood of any such city or town, to such city or town, and on the same terms and conditions as are hereinbefore provided in relation to transfers from one township to another.

Sec. 135. The school year shall be considered as closing on the 36th day of September, and the enumeration of the school children shall be made between the 20th and 25th days of said month, and thirteen weeks of five school days each shall be considered a legal quarter.

Sec. 136. The county auditor shall appoint some suitable person whose duty it shall be to examine the several dockets and records of his county, and make report in writing to the board of county commissioners, of the unclaimed fees as provided by law, and the fines assessed for breaches of the penal laws of the State, which remain uncollected; and he is hereby authorized, if he deem it for the interest of the State, to institute suit in the name of the State of Indiana for the recovery and collection of the same for the use of the common school fund.

Sec. 137. Sec. 138. The proceeds of said sales after deducting the necessary expenses thereof, shall be applied to the purchase of new sites and the purchase or erection of school houses thereon, within the limits of the corporation or civil township in which such real estate was situated.

The question being on concurring in the amendments of the Senate,

The House refused to concur.

On motion by Mr. Meredith,

The message from the Senate, relating to the bill establishing a bank with branches,

Was taken up.

Message from the Senate by Mr. Turman, their Secretary :

MR. SPEAKER :

I am directed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives, that the Senate have passed the following engrossed bill thereof, the objections of his Excellency, the Governor, to the contrary notwithstanding.

No. 93. A bill to establish a bank with branches.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Gentlemen of the Senate :—

I return to you Bill No. 93, entitled "An act to establish a Bank with Branches," which originated in the Senate, with a very brief statement of the reasons which impel me to withhold my approval of the same. The bill has been before me but a few hours, and I hasten (as the period allotted by the constitution, for your deliberations is near its close,) to give the representatives of the people an opportunity for a reconsideration.

I deeply regret that this measure has been presented at this late period of the session, when the pressure of other duties prevents me from giving it that consideration which its importance demands.

The momentous issues involved in the establishment of such an institution (which may issue paper to an unlimited amount, and whose charter cannot be repealed or amended within twenty years without its own consent,) might well make one, charged with a part of the responsibility of legislation, pause before approving this bill.

It would seem that a question so vitally affecting the public interests, ought to have been preceded by a general and full discussion before the people, yet it is not believed that the propriety of the incorporation by the present legislature of a bank with branches, was generally discussed before the people. The power of the present State bank to issue bills, &c., continuing under its charter for two years more, it seems to have been the general impression that the question of the re-charter of the State bank or the establishment of any similar banking institution would be postponed for the consideration of the next General Assembly.

This consideration alone might be sufficient to induce me to throw upon the General Assembly the burthen of a reconsideration.

But there are other considerations, far more potent in my own judgment, why I should not approve the bill.

It is by no means clear that all the provisions of the bill are constitutional. Section 15 of the bill provides, that "the capital stock of said bank or branches shall not be taxed for municipal purposes." Section 23 of the bill of Rights provides, that "the General Assembly shall not grant to any citizen or class of citizens privileges or immunities, which, upon the same terms, shall not equally belong to all citizens. It is not perceived how the immunity from taxation for municipal purposes which is here allowed to a class of citizens, while none others are exempted, (except as expressly provided for in the constitution) is consistent with the constitutional provision above quoted.

In considering the bill, with a view to its policy, I am met at the outset with a provision which is startlingly anomalous. The 79th section, after providing for twenty days' notice of the opening of the books for the original subscription of stock, by its obvious import allows the books to be closed, if the "requisite amount" shall then be subscribed, at the end of the very moment at which they are opened. Thus one man may subscribe the entire amount of stock of one or more branches, and a moneyed monopoly as odious and frightful as any of which the history of American legislation furnishes an example, may suddenly be established. The 84th section of the charter of the present State bank, the language of which is copied, word for word, in many parts of this bill, expressly provided that the books for the original subscription of stock should be "kept open between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock A. M. of each day, for the space of thirty days;" yet this wise safeguard, in the case of the present bill, would seem to have been studiously omitted. It is believed that no provision similar to the one in this bill cited, exists in the charter of any other moneyed corporation in this country. If there were no other objection to this bill, I never could lend the sanction of the Executive approval to a bank bill containing this provision.

The bank is authorized to receive on deposit, moneys, bullion, plate, and other articles of value of small bulk, upon such terms as may be agreed on between the parties; and the bank has a right to discount paper to the amount of three times the amount of the capital stock paid in, and three times the amount of the deposits. Thus the bank would seem to be left to determine what are valuable articles, other than moneys, bullion, and plate, provided they be of small bulk, and also their value without reference to their immediate convertibility into money, and might discount to an amount equal to three times such assumed value, as well as three times the value of the capital stock and other deposits. In case of a financial crisis, what kind of a security is furnished for the redemption of the paper? The security of issues, resting on such a basis, is altogether illusory.

It is believed, too, that the right to emit so large an issue of paper, upon such an amount and kind of securities, is unparalleled in the history of legislation. And as if this were not enough, the character of the State is invoked to its support, by conferring upon it the imposing title of "The Bank of the State of Indiana."

Whatever abuses may be developed—whatever injuries may result from the establishment of this bank, no corrective can be applied by the people, through their representatives, without the assent of the President and Directors of the bank and every branch thereof, until the expiration of twenty years, when the constitution requires that the bank shall cease its operations. And the State, while limited by the constitution to the establishment of one bank with branches, mutually responsible for each others' issues, &c., is not at liberty, in any case, to meet the increasing commercial wants of the State, incident to the development of her resources and the increase of her population, by the establishment of any other branch or branches, without the assent of the boards of directors of two-thirds of the branches.

Gentlemen, in the midst of this financial crisis, the closing events of which will furnish the fruits of a valuable, even though a bitter experience, why is it necessary now, when the present State bank is in full operation, to attempt precipitately to establish another State bank with branches? The problem of banking is not yet solved, and it is well for a statesman to wait patiently, when no necessity urges, to gather as many of the ripe fruits of experience as practicable.

Why not then wait till the State bank has closed up its affairs? Why not wait till it has furnished its final expose? Why not see, from the manner in which its transactions wind up, what is the necessity of a similar institution, and in what condition it leaves the country? A suspicion would seem to be implied that when the State bank comes to be wound up, it will not be so easy as now to procure from the General Assembly a charter for a similar institution.

Considering the present bill, in relation to the powers which it confers upon the bank, the vast capital authorized, and its machinery generally, as hostile to the genius of our institutions; and regarding with distrust its present introduction, without having been preceded by a full discussion before the people: deeming that the present financial crisis teaches us to be tardy, rather than precipitate in entering upon new experiments; and looking upon it, at least, as singular that an emergency should be declared in the bill requiring it to take effect immediately, while the present State bank may continue to issue a currency for the next two years, I cannot, gentlemen, consistent with a sense of official duty, forbear to return to you the bill, and respectfully intrust you to give it a careful reconsideration.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

The question being,
Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Those who voted in the affirmative were,

Messrs. So the bill passed.

Ordered, That the clerk inform the Senate thereof.

Mr. Studabaker asked leave to record his vote.
Which was refused by the House.

Mr. Shanks obtained leave, and entered the following protest:

The undersigned, members of the House of Representatives, hereby enter our protest to the passage of Senate bill No. 93. An act to establish a bank with branches; and for our votes and acts give the following reasons:

1. The bill establishes a corporation which shall continue as such for the term of twenty years from the date of its organization, and for a longer period to close its business, having for its sole object a monetary scheming for gain; by which act this Legislature forestalls the people from taking steps through their representatives or otherwise, for a correction of any defects in the system, corrupt as it may and we think will become.

2. The advocates of the bill claim for it the credit of being a copy of the law founding the present State Bank, and also claim the credit of that institution for this bubble, that like a curse hangs upon the fair name of that institution; when, in fact, it is not a copy of that charter, and has not the basis of credit due the present State Bank, from the fact that the State can have no interest in any corporation, and particularly in a bank. See Constitution, Sec. 12, Article 11. Therefore the only true basis is sapped, and the whole a scheme of wild and reckless crediting in which the bill holder is insecure, and the bank and bankers the only gainers.

3. The act is unconstitutional. The fifteenth section thereof provides a special mode of assessing school tax, and prohibits other taxation for that purpose than therein enacted. It also prohibits the assessment of taxes for municipal purposes on the capital stock of said bank or branches, by this act created; all of which are in conflict with the strict provisions of the constitution, section 1, article 8, and section 1, article 9, in relation to common schools and taxes.

4. Like all other rotten and corrupt systems of money scheming, by way of credit, it proposes to secure the bill holder by issuing two dollars for one of deposit, and that deposit made in the vaults of the bank—which is in effect to make a note payable to a particular person, at a given time, and secure its payment by depositing the money in your pocket, liable to be changed or removed at every wish of the holder—opening a road to fraud and villainy wide enough to ruin our credit, and base enough to sacrifice it.

5. In section forty-five the branches are made the special favorites of the law: "The orders of the board suspending any branch shall have the effect to suspend all suits, judgments, orders, decrees and executions, for any claim ordered which said branch should have paid; nor shall said suit progress until the matter shall have been submitted to the board for their approval." This grants authority only proper to be exercised by superior courts, and grants to those corporations privileges not granted to the people, which is again contrary to justice and the Constitution of the State. See section 23, article 1.

6. When this bill passed the Senate, it contained a provision to take from the State the entire interest thereof in the old bank, which is now near two millions of dollars, which was, however, stricken from the bill in order to gain for it support in this House. We look to this matter as dangerous, and believe that the advocates of this bill have only stooped to conquer, and offer the prediction that our next General Assembly will be called upon to perfect the swindle by re-instating the clause which this House has driven from the bill, and consummate another grand stroke at the interests of the State, and throw at the feet of a corporation the millions of money due the educational interests of the country, and re-enact again the Madison road swindle, or an internal improvement bubble.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

J. P. C. SHANKS.

On motion by Mr. Newcomb,
The House adjourned till 1½ o'clock, P M.

1½ o'clock, P. M.

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Mr. Smith of Perry, from the committee on ways and means, obtained leave and made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on ways and means to whom was referred the report of the State debt sinking fund commissioners have carefully examined the same and the accounts of the treasurer in reference thereto, and the bonds in the hands of the Auditor of State.

They find the following bonds on hands:

No. 2332, dated 28 Oct., 1854,.....	$67,492 50
No. 2331, " " " "	$13,190 00
No. 2341, " 3 Nov., "	$13,180 00
No. 2340, " " " "	$54,002 00

All of which are 2½ per cent. bonds.

Also,

No. 2268, dated 28 Oct., 1854,.....	$40,000 00
-------------------------------------	-------------

Bearing 5 per cent. interest.

There is also in the hands of John W. Wright, belonging to the fund 5 per cent. bonds amounting to $10,000.

There is also to be in the hands of the present Agent of State bonds belonging to this fund and purchased by M. G. Bright, former agent, bonds amounting to about $17,840, which makes up the whole amount of stock purchased prior to Nov. 1st, 1854, $245,714 50.

Since that time the Treasurer has purchased the following 2½ per cent. bonds:

No. 2289, dated 19th April, 1854,.....	$9,547 50
No. 2325, dated 25th Sept., 1854,.....	200 00
No. 2165, dated 21st Oct., 1854,.....	1,800 00

Making the total amount of the fund at this time $257,261 00

By which it will be seen that this fund has reduced the State debt upwards of one quarter of a million of dollars, and with careful and prudent management ought to continue to withdraw upwards of $100,000 per annum, with a continually increasing ratio.

The committee have directed me to return the report of the commissioners to the House, and to recommend that it be printed in the documentary journal.

The report was concurred in.

Mr. Stanton, from a select committee, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

A majority of the committee, to whom was referred so much of the Governor's message as refers to the subject of colonization have agreed to report adversely to said recommendation, and ask leave to submit the following considerations which have influenced the committee in coming to this conclusion:

1. The whole scheme of colonization originated in the basest motives and from the most mercenary considerations. It is one of the offspring of slavery, originally in the Southern States, and intended to remove the free blacks from the country in order to increase the value and security of their slaves by removing this source of annoyance from their midst. To show that from such base motives has this organization sprung, your committee would submit a few extracts from the speeches and writings of the friends and officers of the American Colonization Society.

"The removal of every free black in America would be productive of nothing but safety, to the slaveholder.—African Repository, 3d, 202.

"So far from having a dangerous tendency, when properly considered, it will be viewed as an additional guard to our peculiar species of property."—New Orleans Argus.

"The tendency of the scheme, and one of its objects, is to secure slaveholders and the whole southern country against certain evil consequences growing out of the present three-fold mixture of our population"—Address of a Virginia Colonization Society, Ap. Report, 4, 274.

We might fill a volume with extracts from the speeches and writings of the friends of colonization, in proof of our position, but let these suffice.

It is said the colored man is free to go or remain, and that the scheme originates in benevolence to him. But we are guilty of making him choose between two evils and in doing this we commit a heinous sin.

To make him go we apply the following as so many goads to drive him from the State:

1st. We drive his children from our schools, and thereby declare they shall be denied the lights of science and revelation.

2nd. After we have done all we can to heathenize them, we pass laws that white villains may take advantage of their illiterate condition. The counterfeiter, the thief, the swindler, the murderer (if he be white) may with impunity perpetrate his hellish deeds, and has our license and protection.

3d. Colored persons have been denied the privilege of coming to the State, and many aged fathers and mothers who are out of this State, are not permitted to come into it and share the kind protection of their relatives here.

4th. This course is approved by every colonizationist in the nation, slaveholders and non-slaveholders, that the condition of the free colored man may be miserable, that he may be compelled to choose between the evil of staying amongst us christians, or being expatriated to the shores of heathendom.

Let it not be said, then, that the colored man is not compelled to go to Africa. If injustice, inhumanity and barbarity can compel an individual to action, then is he compelled; and these barbarous laws, be it remembered, are put and kept in force for the specific purpose of compelling this choice.

If these colonizationists were actuated by benevolence they would advocate the education, moral and intellectual, of the African race, and in fact every measure to ameliorate their unhappy condition. But this course would defeat their object, hence they oppose all these measures.

We object again because it is contrary to the principles of our government and the genius of our institutions, which proclaim to the world the equality of man, and offers an asylum in our midst to the oppressed of every country and of every clime; because the proposition is to colonize a people whose ancestors fought and fell in the battles of the revolution, and who have as good a right to this country as we ourselves; a people whose ancestors fought side by side with the men of '76, and again in the war of 1812, and who were then recognized as citizens of the country, and entitled to the protection of the same; and we ask the candid attention of the Legislature to the toll wing facts bearing upon this point. During the discussion upon the admission of Missouri into the Union, the Hon. Mr. Morrill, Senator from New Hampshire said:

"Sir, you excluded not only the citizens from their constitutional privileges and immunities but also your soldiers of color, to whom you have given patents of lands. You had a company of this description. They have fought your battles; they have defended your country; they have preserved your privileges, but have lost their own."

The Hon. Charles Pinckney, of South Carolina, during the same discussion said:

"They then were as they still are as valuable a part of our population to the Union as any other equal number of inhabitants. They were, in numerous instances, the pioneers, and in all the labors of your armies, to their hands were owing the erection of the greatest part of the fortifications raised for the protection of our country. Fort Moultrie gave, at an early period, the experience and untired valor of our citizens, immortality to the American arms and, in the Northern States, numerous bodies of them were enrolled and fought side by side with whites, the battles of the revolution:"

And in this connection we would present the proclamation of General Jackson.

"To the free colored inhabitants of Louisiana:

"Through a mistaken policy, you have been deprived of a participation in the glorious struggle for national rights in which your country is engaged. This no longer shall exist.

"As sons of freedom you are now called upon to defend our most inestimable blessings.

"As Americans your country looks with confidence to her adopted children for a valorous support. As fathers, husbands, brothers, you are summoned to rally around the standard of the eagle to defend all which is dear to existence.

"Your country, although calling for exertions, does not wish you to engage in her cause without remunerating you for the services rendered.

"In the sincerity of a soldier, and in the language of truth, I address you. To every noble hearted free man of color, volunteering to serve during the present contest with Great Britain and no longer, there will be paid the same bounty in money and land now received by the white soldiers of the United States, viz: $124 in money, and 160 acres of land. The non-commissioned officers and privates will also be entitled to same monthly pay and daily rations and clothes furnished to any American soldier.

"The Major General commanding will select officers for your government from your white fellow-citizens. Your non-commissioned officers will be selected from yourselves. Due regard will be paid to the feelings of freemen and soldiers. As a distinct, independent battalion or regiment, pursuing the path of glory, you will, undivided, receive the applause and gratitude of your countrymen.

ANDREW JACKSON,

Major General Commanding.

Niles Register, Dec 3, 1814, vol. 7, p. 205.

SECOND PROCLAMATION.

To the Free People of Color :

Soldiers! when on the banks of the Mobile I called you to take up arms, inviting you to partake the perils and glory of your white fellow citizens, I expected much from you; for I was not ignorant that you possessed qualities most formidable to an invading enemy. I knew with what fortitude you could endure hunger and thirst and all the fatigues of a campaign. I knew how well you loved our native country, and that you, as well as ourselves, had to defend what man holds most dear, his parents, wife, children, and property. You have done more than I expected. In addition to the previous qualities I before knew you to possess, I found among you a noble enthusiasm which leads to the performance of great things.

Soldiers! the President of the United States shall hear how praiseworthy was your conduct in the hours of danger, and the Representatives of the American people will give you the praise your exploits entitle you to. Your General anticipates them in applauding your noble ardor.

The enemy approaches—his vessels cover our lakes—our brave citizens are united, and all contention has ceased among them. The only dispute among them is who shall win the prize of valor? or who the most glory, its noblest reward.

By order,

THOMAS BUTLER,

Aid-de-Camp.

In conclusion, your committee feel that they are not asking too much when they invoke the spirit of patriotism; of justice and honor in behalf of a weak and defenseless people who have fought for the liberties of the country; but who are now, by our barbarous and inhuman laws, out-lawed from society, as though they were the veriest criminals that live. And we would recommend that instead of making large appropriations for their exportation, such sum be appropriated for the education and elevation of this class in our midst, and thus make virtuous and intelligent citizens out of those whom our policy has hitherto kept in ignorance and degradation.

The report was laid upon the table.

Mr. Meredith, from the committee on ways and means, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on ways and means in discharge of their duty have examined the Auditor's and Treasurer's office, their books, papers, and vouchers, and find the same to be regular and correct. They also have made a thorough investigation and comparison of the journals and ledgers and find them to correspond in all material particulars. The warrants issued by the Auditor and redeemed by the Treasurer correspond in every particular.

Some vouchers on file do not correspond with the Auditor's journal, and there are some other inaccuracies of no material importance between the vouchers of the Auditor and the warrants, a schedule of which is hereto annexed, marked B.

Statement A, hereto appended, exhibits an account of the receipts and expenditures of the last fiscal year up to 31st of October last.

The committee would direct your attention to the report which we have specially made on the subject of the "swamp land fund."

The committee have examined (so far as the limited time would admit of) the over issue and redemption of scrip.

In the first place the committee call your attention to the law in regard to the redemption and cancellation of scrip (page 154, acts of 1842) which reads as follows, viz:

Sec. 6. That the said treasury notes by this act authorized to be issued, shall by said Auditor be delivered to the Treasurer in parcels not exceeding $50,000; and before any second parcel is delivered, the Treasurer shall account and settle with the Auditor for the amount by producing the fifty dollar notes therewith redeemed; and the said notes so produced shall by said Auditor and Treasurer be canceled, by being cut by some sharp instrument, and for the amount thereof the Auditor shall issue his warrant to the Treasurer.

Sec. 7. That all other treasury notes redeemed at the treasury shall, annually, within thirty days after the adjournment of the General Assembly, be counted by the Auditor and Treasurer of State, and thereupon canceled, and a warrant issued therefor, in like manner as provided in the preceding section, and shall also be entered 'canceled' in the proper register thereof; and the same, together with those canceled under the preceding section of this act, shall be carefully preserved by said Auditor, until a committee of the next General Assembly shall count and compare the same with the registers thereof, when the same shall be burned in the presence of said committee and said Auditor and Treasurer: and certificates thereof showing the number, date, and amount of said treasury notes so burned, and the interest thereon, shall be signed by said committee and said Auditor and Treasurer, and filed in the Auditor's and Treasurer's office.

At the last session of the Legislature the following resolution was adopted by both branches thereof:

Resolved, By the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, that the Governor, Auditor, and Treasurer of State, be requested to examine into the stock affairs of the State, and report to the next Legislature, concerning the loss of surrendered bonds, and the excess of scrip.

In pursuance of which an examination was had, and from which the committee have mainly predicated the following facts:

Bank Scrip.

The examination of the scrip account shows the following result:

The amount cancelled on the register of the bank scrip by Geo. H. Dunn, Esq., shows that the amount for which he got credit in his settlement with the committee of ways and means is substantially correct, the amount being $138,340, showing only a variation of $155.

The account of Royal Mayhew shows nearly the same accurate result. Amount canceled, $248,510, showing a variation of only a few hundred dollars.

The same result is made with the account of Samuel Hannah, the amount canceled being $158,176, showing a variation of only about $15,00.

The amount canceled on the register by J. P. Drake, Esq., according to the investigation is..... $172,810 00

The amount for which he got credit on settlement with the committee of ways and means is..... 186,100 00

Showing a variation of..... $13,290 00

It may be remarked that in canceling so large an amount of scrip that in all reasonable probability clerical errors did occur, consequently the small variations in the accounts of Messrs. Dunn, Mayhew, and Hannah is not at all surprising, but only tends to establish the accuracy of their accounts.

The variation in the account of J. P. Drake, Esq., cannot be accounted for in this way.

The examination of the $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. scrip has been perplexing and difficult. Several of the treasurers had marked it canceled in the register and afterwards paid it out, not receiving any warrant therefor in their settlement.

The whole amount made was $70,000, of which only $41,250 was, in pursuance of the law, exchanged for fifty's in the year 1842, the balance of the $70,000, viz: $28,750, remained in the Treasurer's office until 1848 when it was destroyed.

There is no very material variation in the accounts of the treasurers of the amount marked canceled on the register and the amount for which credit was given in the annual settlement with the committee of ways and means.

The register of this scrip is nearly covered all over with duplicate redemptions. The examination shows that in some way which has not been fully explained that there was clearly an over issue of of this particular scrip of about $8,000.

Six per cent. Scrip.

The examination shows that George H. Dunn, Esq., canceled on the register $584,850, and in settlement with the committee of ways and means got for credit $599,090, showing a variation of $14,240.

The amount of Royal Mahew agrees with the cancelation so nearly as to show a variation of only $785 against the State.

The amount of S. Hannah, Esq., agrees nearly with the cancelation, showing only a variation of about $425.

The account of J. P. Drake, Esq., shows the following result:
 The amount canceled on the register is..... $120,535 00
 The amount for which he was allowed a credit on settlement with the committee of ways and means shows..... 124,800 00

Showing a variation of..... $4,265 00

The scrip canceled by E. Newland, Esq., is not included in this report, as it is still on hand, subject to examination.

The scrip canceled by N. B. Palmer, Esq., late Treasurer of State, for some reason was not canceled on the register.

The amount was..... $147,000 00

By reference to the law quoted above it will be seen that the manner in which the various kinds of scrip was to be canceled is clearly pointed out, viz:

1st. The scrip should be canceled on the register of the Auditor and Treasurer of State.

2d. Carefully counted by these officers, and cut or obliterated so that it could not go into circulation again.

3d. The Auditor of State to issue to the Treasurer a warrant for the amount, and the canceled scrip to be kept by the Auditor of State until the next Legislature should meet, when the committee of ways and means would re-count and compare the scrip canceled upon the register.

To test the correctness of the action of the Auditor and Treasurer, which, if found correct, then the scrip was to be burned.

But from the facts which have come to the knowledge of the committee, they are of opinion that the requirements of the law were not observed in the counting and cancelation of scrip.

The method usually pursued was this: The Auditor and Treasurer canceled on the register the scrip on hand during the recess of the Legislature, next the scrip was counted by various members of the committee of ways and means, then punched, and afterwards burned; consequently it is not at all surprising that errors should occur.

The committee are of opinion that if the law had been observed, the errors which the examination has brought to light, would not have occurred.

The examination (above referred to) by which the foregoing results have been obtained, was done under the direction and immediate attention of E. Newland, Esq., late Treasurer of State.

The process was tedious and complicated, and involved an immense amount of labor and research. Between fifteen and twenty large folio volumes had to be examined, and the issue of each bill carried to the particular account of each treasurer, and the whole brought to an aggregate, with a precision and accuracy highly commendable.

For his services in the examination Dr. Newland does not make any charge against the State.

The committee would further report, that owing to the research of E. Newland, Esq., late treasurer, and to his unwearied and untiring industry, they are principally indebted for the facts in the foregoing report.

He has furnished to your committee every facility in his power to ascertain the results aforesaid, and in the opinion of the committee, he has faithfully discharged his duty as a public officer with honor to himself and to the benefit of the public.

Mr. Meredith made the following report from committee of ways and means :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on ways and means to whom was referred the communication of his Excellency, the Governor, relative to the right of the State to and the expediency of taxing the Wabash and Erie Canal and its properties, have had the same under consideration, and ask leave to submit the following report in the premises, to-wit :

1st. That in the opinion of the committee the State has ample power to levy a tax upon said canal and its properties.

2nd. That in view of the contract between the State and her bond holders, the language of the law and the nature of the trust, both having been created for the benefit of the State and her creditors, your committee are of opinion that to levy a tax upon the said canal and its properties would be a breach on the part of the State of her plighted faith, and would therefore report that in their opinion it is highly inexpedient and levy a tax upon the said canal and its properties.

Mr Monks, from the committee on enrolled bills, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on enrolled bills have compared enrolled bills Nos. 202, 209, 235, 233, and 236, and joint resolution No. 24, with the engrossed copies thereof, and find the same correctly enrolled.

Mr. Sanford, from the committee on ways and means, made the following report:

MR. SPEAKER:

The committee on ways and means who were charged with the investigation of the facts connected with the proper liability for the sum of $1,362.23 of funds appropriated to the Institute for the Education of the Blind, which liability is represented as being in dispute between the late superintendent, W. H. Churchman, and E. Newland, late Treasurer of State, have, so far as time and circumstances would admit, performed the duty thus assigned them, and have directed me to report as follows:

1. That the committee have come into the possession of no evidence implicating said Churchman in any charge of illegal reception, appropriation, or embezzlement of said sum, or any part thereof, nor have the committee any reason to believe that he was guilty of any dereliction of duty in connection with the transaction in question, but are satisfied that the result of the legal investigation in this case had, places him in a proper position before this House.

2. That the committee are also satisfied, from an inspection of the vouchers for said sum late in his possession, as then Treasurer of State and also of the said institution, and from the evidence of those conversant with the business habits of the said late Treasurer, E. Newland, that the scrupulous and habitual caution, care and exactness with which he regularly transacted the business of his said office, fully justifies them in the belief that the said Newland, as such Treasurer, paid over the money to some person presenting the said vouchers, and should consequently stand before this House exonerated from all blame or suspicion even, as thus connected with this transaction.

3. That the committee have not been able to acquire any evidence as to how or by whom the said sum was drawn or appropriated, nor of the probabilities of its being ever recovered, to justify them in expression of any opinion in relation thereto.

And, having reported as fully as the circumstances under which they have been acting will enable them to do, they respectfully ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Mr. Monks, from the committee on enrolled bills, made the following report :

MR. SPEAKER :

The committee on enrolled bills have compared House bill No. 235 with the engrossed copy thereof, and find the same correctly enrolled.

Mr. Monks, from the committee on enrolled bills, made the following report :

Mr. Frazer offered the following resolution :

WHEREAS, It is the duty of the present General Assembly to elect a United States Senator, and a refusal to do so would, if a like refusal should occur in a sufficient number of States, destroy the National Legislature and reduce the National Government to anarchy ; AND WHEREAS, the House has on several occasions invited the Senate to unite with the House in joint convention for the purpose of holding such election ; AND WHEREAS, the Senate has declined to accede to such requests, it being alledged as a reason therefor, that the Senate ought not to lose its identity in such election by uniting in such joint convention; AND WHEREAS, the Senate on its part has proposed to the House the name of a citizen of the State for United States Senator, the views of which citizen on great public questions, being in opposition to the views of a large majority of the House and of the people of Indiana, wherefore he is deemed by the House an improper person to represent the people and State of Indiana in the United States Senate; AND WHEREAS, the House being anxious to discharge its constitutional duty in the matter, is willing to accede to the views of the Senate, so far as the same may be reasonable and practicable; AND WHEREAS, it is historically true that every United States Senator since the first organization of this State Government has been elected by joint convention of both Houses of the General Assembly, Therefore,

Resolved, The Senate concurring, that the Senate and House proceed at 2 o'clock this day to make choice of United States Senator in the following manner, viz:

Each House shall proceed viva voce to vote for United States Senator, and shall interchange the result of their ballots, and if having thus balloted the two Houses shall fail to concur in the choice of a citizen for said office—having balloted three times—then the two Houses shall immediately assemble together in joint convention, in the Hall of the House, and by viva voce vote choose such United States Senator, and the person receiving a majority of all the votes given, shall be declared chosen such United States Senator for the term of six years from the fourth of March instant.
